U.S. Optimistic On Arming of West Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—After a week of worry and soul searching, U. S. officials are fairly confident today that a formula will be found in a reasonable time for arming West Germany as a partner in the anti-Communist defense of Western Europe.

But there is far less confidence that this formula will promote European unity. Some other device may have to be found for that.

As Washington views the situation, the tragedy of French destruction of the proposal for a European Defense Community is that EDC would have served both designs.

Diplomatic authorities say privately the first dangers of the EDC defeat apparently have been weathered successfully.

There had been deep concern here about a violent reaction in West Germany, including angry statements against France, outbursts of extreme German nationalism and the like. State Department officials said that has not happened. They regard as encouraging the moderate tone of German reaction, based on the theme of getting on with the task of strengthening Europe's defenses and unity.

Another fear was that American reaction might take a violent swing. Some officials now concede that perhaps EDC was oversold as a solution for Europe's troubles. If it failed, there was always a certainty that some other European defense plan, however much less desirable, would have to be found.

Two Possibilities

The ways still open in a practical sense appear to embrace only two possibilities.

First, the American and British government now favor solving the German rearmament problem by making West Germany a member of the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Second, should the NATO plan fail, London and Washington appear to have an understanding that they must then try to rearm Germany directly. They would prefer to do whatever they do with the approval and cooperation of France.

Britain has already proposed an eight-nation emergency conference to begin drafting a new plan for West German rearmament. It was reported yesterday that the United States was inclined to agree to the proposal, although no formal word has been received from Britain on it.

Could Hurt Unity

The rearmament of Germany under NATO — or directly without NATO membership and perhaps over the objection of France — would appear to work against European unity.

It would seem to put new values on nationalism in Europe, to recreate some of the situations which existed before World War II insofar as distrust between France and Germany is concerned.

Balanced against this, in the eyes of officials here, is the strong pro-European policy and leadership of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government. Yet it is a government headed by an old man. Another of the unknowns of European politics which causes concern here is what will happen when Adenauer ceases to exercise a powerful influence on West German conduct.

ASSAILS WATKINS' STAND. At a press conference, Sen. Joseph McCarthy assails what he calls a "fantastic" claim made by Sen. Arthur Watkins (R) Utah that it was "unimportant" whether members of his committee are impartial in weighing censure charges against him. The impartiality issue revolves around McCarthy's demand that Sen. Edwin Johnson (D) Colorado, committee vice chairman, tell whether he actually stated that Democratic leaders "loathe" McCarthy.

Traffic Jams Predicted for Holiday Start

Many Marionites Expected To Join in Summer's Last Fling

Many Marion residents will join motorists of the nation in jamming the highways tonight at the start of the long Labor Day weekend.

Millions of Americans are expected to take advantage of the last holiday of the summer season by motoring to lakes, picnic areas, sporting events, and other sites for relaxation.

But others, mindful of the predictions of the high traffic death toll, will stick close to home. The national Safety Council predicts 390 will die in traffic accidents.

Most Marion factories will be closed Saturday through Monday, giving employes a three-day holiday, while Marion business establishments will be closed Monday on the legal holiday.

The weekend will mark the last few days of "freedom" for Marion pupils who return to school Tuesday morning after a three-month summer vacation. Many of them will be taking advantage of the three-day weekend by traveling in groups to nearby recreational

World Series Opens Sept. 29

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Series of baseball will open on Wednesday, Sept. 29, in the National League park, and the same scale of ticket prices as last year will prevail.

After two games in the National League park, the series will shift to the American League park for three games, and then return to the National League park if needed, Commissioner Ford Frick announced. The series is decided on the best four out of seven games.

Ticket prices are: $10.00 for box seats, $7.00 for reserved seats, $4.00 for general admission, which is standing room, and $2.00 for bleachers.

On all games played in New York City parks, a 5 per cent city sales tax will apply.

Mendes-France Loses 3 Pro-EDC Ministers

PARIS (AP)—Three pro-European Army ministers resigned from Premier Pierre Mendes - France's cabinet today, protesting he did not fight to win approval of the treaty in the National Assembly.

The resignations brought to six the number of cabinet members who have left the government over the EDC issue. Previously, three pulled out because they felt Mendes - France was not strongly enough opposed to the treaty.

May End Next Week

McCarthy Hearing Hits Weekend Lull

WASHINGTON (AP) —The McCarthy censure hearings, so far almost entirely a rehash of old records and testimony, hit a weekend dead spot today.

Possibly the inquiry may be over by late next week.

The mass of evidence on five major classes of accusations against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has been spread on the record in three days of drab but fast-moving public sessions. There was nothing new in it, no surprises.

May Get More Evidence

Where the hearings go when they start up again Tuesday is uncertain. The six-man special committee may have a bit more evidence to offer and briefs to file.

"We haven't closed the door on anything," said Chairman Watkins (R-Utah).

Or McCarthy and his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, may open their defense.

"We'll be ready to go on Tuesday," Williams said.

But he wasn't disclosing any strategy. McCarthy told newsmen "I anticipate I will be a witness." But neither he nor Williams was ready to say what other witnesses they might call, if any.

Under orders from the Senate, the committee is considering a resolution by Sen Flanders (R-Vt) to condemn McCarthy's conduct as tending to bring the Senate into disrepute. Backing up the resolution, Flanders and Senators Morse (Ind-Ore) and Fulbright (D-Ark) aimed 46 overlapping, specific charges against McCarthy.

Finish With 5 Charges

To get things started, the committee skipped some charges and lumped the others into five major categories. Working with unexpected speed, it finished putting into the record by midafternoon yesterday the documentary evidence, mostly from transcripts of prior hearings of other committees.

The two categories covered yesterday were charges that McCarthy (1) may have violated the espionage law by bringing into the recent McCarthy-Army hearings a document quoting a secret FBI report, and (2) urged government employes to break the law and violate their oaths of office by giving him secret information.

Long excerpts from the Army-McCarthy hearings were read into the record retracing the story of how McCarthy produced last May 4 what he said was a letter from FBI Director J Edgar Hoover, relating to security at the Army radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

Controversial Document

It was a 2¼-page document which Hoover later was quoted as saying contained verbatim passages from a 15-page memorandum the FBI had sent to the Army intelligence service. He said he hadn't written the 2¼-page document itself.

Also into the record — from the Army-McCarthy transcript — went a letter from Atty. Gen. Brownell declaring Hoover had told him "he never wrote any such letter" as the abbreviated document McCarthy produced. The latter document, he said, was "not authentic" in that Hoover never wrote it.

Brownell said, furthermore, that the document involved "an unauthorized use of classified information" and "serious harm" would result from ignoring secrecy labels on FBI papers. The document was never made public.

Dulles Goes To Southeast Asian Parley

State Secretary Calls Conference Essential To Philippine Security

MANILA (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived today for an eight-nation Southeast Asia security conference he called "one of the most important international conferences of our time."

An 18-gun salute boomed as his plane landed. Two military bands began playing and a host of dignitaries crowded forward as he walked smiling from the big airliner.

Speaks to Crowd

"I am happy to be again in the Philippine Republic," Dulles told the crowd. "I particularly look forward to seeing again Mr. Magsaysay. I met him here before when he was minister of defense. Now I shall be honored to pay my respects to him as president."

Tomorrow U.S. and Philippines officials will meet in advance of the foreign ministers' conference opening Monday to discuss ways and means of strengthening the mutual defense pact linking the two nations.

"I am confident that through frank discussion and mutual understanding we shall find ways to advance further Philippine security," Dulles declared in his statement.

Important Conference

"Next Monday Manila will become the seat of one of the most important international conferences of our time. The representatives of eight free nations will meet here to discuss how to protect Southeast Asia and the southwest Pacific from aggression."

Immediately after reading his statement he drove to the residence of U.S. Ambassador Raymond Spruance.

The secretary was expected to dampen the enthusiasm of the Philippines and Thailand for a strong military alliance against communism.

The United States already has indicated it is not anxious to go along with their demands for a pact binding members to instant retaliation in the event of an attack against any one of them.

Washington is reported to prefer an agreement under which member nations would react to an attack against another member within the framework of their constitutional processes.

Neither Likes Comparison

Reported Blast by Nixon Raps McCarthy, Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were at least two versions today of the language Vice President Nixon is said to have used in comparing Sen McCarthy (R-Wis) and Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee.

Neither version appeared to please either McCarthy or Mitchell. Nixon could not be reached immediately by newsmen.

He spoke at a closed meeting of the GOP National Committee in Cincinnati Wednesday night. A committee source who asked not to be named said he declared in effect there is not much to choose between "the blasts of McCarthy and in the drawing room innuendoes of Mitchell."

Cleveland News' Version

A Cleveland News dispatch from Cincinnati by staff writer Thomas Vail quoted Nixon as saying: "I can't see much difference between the bellows of Sen McCarthy and the bleats of Mitchell. In fact, Mitchell is using the McCarthy techniques."

McCarthy commented "I'm sure I don't like the comparison any better than Mitchell probably will."

Mitchell told a reporter from his vacation ranch at Taos, N.M.: "You can't figure out from this report whether Nixon and the other Republican leaders finally have decided that McCarthy is a liability to them."

Mitchell added that Nixon "is an expert on Sen. McCarthy but I don't think he knows much about me," and he said:

Blasts Power Deal

"I thought when you mentioned Nixon's name you were going to tell me the Republicans were announcing another Nixon TV-extravaganza to claim the Dixon-Yates deal for private exploitation of atomic power was white as snow.

"What was the name of Nixon's dog?"

Nixon's office referred newsmen who asked about his Cincinnati remarks to James Bassett, public relations director of the GOP National Committee, who said of the Cleveland News account: "It is not an accurate quotation." He declined to make public a transcript.

Nearly a Half-Inch Of Rain Falls Here

A total of .45 inches of rain fell in showers here yesterday, local weather observers reported.

Most of it fell in a heavy shower shortly after 5 o'clock, yesterday afternoon.

The weather forecast calls for more rain today.

Logging Train Hits Bridge, Piles Up; 82 Filipinos Are Dead

FIRE AT ATLANTIC CITY. Flames sweep a two-block section along Gardiner's Basin, center of Atlantic City's fishing section, at the height of a two-hour, general alarm fire. Five large frame buildings were destroyed and many others damaged.

Wreck Worst In Country's Rail History

Cars, Bodies, Timber Hurtled From Trestle To Bottom of Gorge

MANILA (AP) — A heavily loaded logging train carrying more than 100 passengers on empty flat cars careened down mountainside and piled up on a wooden bridge yesterday, killing at least 82 persons.

Most of the others were injured many critically, in what is described as the worst railroad disaster in Philippines history.

Cars, logs and crushed bodies hurtled from the wrecked bridge into a gorge 100 feet below. Cranes were hoisting massive logs from the gorge today and officials said additional bodies may be uncovered.

The wreck occurred on northern Negros Island in the southern Philippines and authorities still were trying to piece together exactly what happened.

Engineer Pablo Villarete, 46 said that as his train crept down a steep grade near the town of Fabrica 16 cars loaded with logs broke loose and began rolling free. In an attempt to save his train Villarete said he raced his engine and seven coupled cars down the mountain, but the runaway cars caught up with the train on the bridge.

The crash derailed many cars, wrecked the bridge and tossed five cars over the side. Chains holding the logs snapped and the huge logs hurtled off the cars, crushing many passengers and sweeping others into the gorge. Some cars were smashed against the mountainside.

Survivors said some bodies were torn apart by the logs. Others were crushed beyond recognition. Unidentified bodies were lined along the right of way.

Officials said passengers on the train were mostly employes of the Insular Lumber Co., which owned the train, and their wives and children.

Police Chief Emilio V. Lica described the wreck as "the most terrible accident I ever saw in all my life."

Massachusetts Fights Growing Crisis in Food

Stores Will Stay Open On Weekend as Storm Hinders Refrigeration

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. Christian Herter has waived the Massachusetts blue laws with an unprecedented executive order which permits retail stores to remain open Sunday and Labor Day to meet the growing food crisis resulting from the hurricane which battered New England Tuesday.

The action came as hundreds of repairmen and cleanup crews worked feverishly to restore electricity to the estimated two million who were still without power today.

Tons of foodstuffs spoiled in refrigerators that have been powerless since the hurricane struck, but state officials said loads of dry ice flown in from other states is helping to keep dairies, packing houses and storage plants "in excellent shape."

The Sunday sale of food was ordered for those who must buy from day to day because of lack of home refrigeration.

Meanwhile, fear mounted that the hurricane death toll might reach 66. A Coast Guard report said there has been no sign of a New Bedford fishing boat with 11 men aboard.

Thunderstorm Loss Heavy in Northern Ohio

Youngstown Cathedral Destroyed; 9 Counties Blacked Out by Bolt

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Violent electrical storms, whipping across northern Ohio last night as the vanguard of a cold front, destroyed a Roman Catholic cathedral in Youngstown and interrupted electrical power in several counties.

The church, St. Columba's Cathedral, was hit by a bolt of lightning, and the ensuing fire was not brought under control until early today. The roof of the structure collapsed shortly before midnight, later a steeple at the rear of the building crashed to the ground, endangering the lives of several thousand spectators.

Firemen saved a rectory and a parochial school next to the cathedral.

Church spokesmen estimated loss of the building at $1,000,000.

In Toledo, lightning struck an insulator at a Toledo Edison Co. substation, blacking out an area over nine northwestern Ohio counties more than an hour.

A power company spokesman said the insulator at the Bayview Substation in north Toledo was knocked out of use about 7:55 p.m. An automatic shutoff at the utility's downtown plant then stopped seven turbines which serve Lucas,

Rites for Sen. Maybank Set in Charleston, S.C.

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—South Carolina's senior U.S. senator, veteran Democrat Burnet R. Maybank, will be buried here today.

Hundreds of friends, including a large delegation from Washington, joined relatives in mourning the 55-year-old scion of an old Charleston family who never lost an election in 27 years of political life.

The body was brought to his home here yesterday from Flat Rock, N. C., where Maybank died Wednesday of a heart attack at his summer home.

Battle Shaping Up

French Balk at German Bid

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—One grand wrangle—it will last for months, perhaps for years, and could split the Allies — is shaping up over France and West Germany.

This is a look at the problems.

Nine years after the war West Germany is not free. Troops of the United States, Britain and France still occupy the country. The three powers have veto rights over important actions of the German government.

The United States and Britain think the time has come to let Germany have more, if not complete, independence. The Germans are demanding full independence. The United States and Britain probably won't accept that.

They may want to retain emergency rights. That is, they may want to be able to take over Germany if the Communists try to seize power by force.

THE GERMANS' demands for full independence may be for bargaining purposes. They have a good bargaining position. The United States and Britain want them to rearm to help in the defense of Europe.

The Germans say they want full independence before talking of rearming. The two allies have to be careful not to alienate the West Germans to the point of turning them toward Russia or making them balk at taking part in Western defense.

At the same time, in wanting to rearm the Germans, the United States and Britain must face a question: Is there some way to limit German rearmament so she cannot again become a military menace to her neighbors?

The French have already expressed fear of a rearmed Germany. Can the United States and Britain persuade the French to let Germany rearm?

OR, IF THE United States and Britain and their allies on the Continent insist on rearming Germany over French protests, will the French people be antagonized to the point of wrecking the Western alliance with the French?

The problem of the United States and Britain is how to satisfy both the Germans and the French without losing the alliance of either.

The French are in a position to throw a monkey wrench in American and British effort to grant Germany sovereignty. Since the French occupy part of the country, they could continue to occupy it. How then could the United States and Britain say Germany had sovereignty?

In 1949 the Western Allies created NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. They set up a general staff to plan Western Europe's defenses. Under NATO they agreed to help one another in case any one of them was attacked.

BUT THERE WAS a weak spot: What was needed was a truly strong European army, already set up and waiting, in case Russia attacked. There was general agree-

Homes Have No Light, Heat

Storm Changes Way of Life

Rhode Island was one of the hardest hit states in the path of Hurricane Carol, which battered New England Tuesday. The following story by John Ward of the Providence Journal-Bulletin tells of one family in a shore community and how it is faring three days after the storm.

By JOHN WARD
For The Associated Press

WAKEFIELD, R. I. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jenne and their four children go to bed at 9 p.m. by the light of a single kerosene lamp that their family physician gave them.

That's all the light they have.

They didn't have any light Tuesday night and had to go to bed at dusk. The hurricane had carried away power lines in this little village on Narragansett Bay, 18 miles south of Providence.

That storm had left them with their home but with a cellar full of water, a yard covered with puddles of salt water, no lights, no heat, no facilities for storing food and none for cooking it.

The Jennes, whose children range from 3 to 22, are typical of hundreds of families braving it out in many of the flood areas of Rhode Island, leading a bare existence in their water-soaked homes, struggling along with makeshift meals, sleeping in makeshift beds, wearing what clothes the storm has left them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenne were working at the Quonset Point Naval Air Station and their son Robert at a bank in Providence when the storm hit.

A nursemaid, Mrs. Ethel Rose of Allenton, rushed the three children, two boys and a girl, 3 to 6 years old, from the house and drove them in her auto through rising waters to refuge at her own home.

The Jenne family was reunited late Tuesday afternoon to find the floodwaters had virtually destroyed all their first-floor furnishings, including everything in two bedrooms.

Last night, Mrs. Jenne, who perhaps typifies all the housewives and mothers in the area, said, "Oh, we're living."

Have One Kerosene Lamp

"We have just one kerosene lamp. Dr. Patrick O'Brien loaned it to us. The first night we went to bed at 8, but now we go at 9.

"We have been cleaning up and cleaning up. We get food as we need it for each meal from a store four miles away.

"We finally got our gas man to hook up our bottled gas stove yesterday afternoon. Before that we had to eat cold food like frankfurters although Wednesday we had steaks cooked on our outdoor grill.

"We invited our neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Willis and their children, over that night. They're worse off than we are. They live on the first floor and had 36 inch-

Ohio Escapees Are Nabbed in Pennsylvania

BULLETIN

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two fugitives from the Ohio State Reformatory were captured early today in Johnstown, one after having terrorized three nurses and a girl. Police Chief Charles R. Griffith of Johnstown identified the pair as Ralph Jones, 19-year-old Negro, and Edgar Allan Poe, 22.

Jones was picked up by a police cruiser on the street and Poe was captured in a wooded area. Both were unarmed and offered no resistance, Chief Griffith said.

The chief said Jones and Poe escaped from the reformatory Aug. 31.

Nova Scotia Escapes As Hurricane Veers

HALIFAX, N. S. (AP)—Hurricane Dolly passed 60 miles south of Cape Race, Nfld., early today. It was heading east-northeast at 30 miles an hour.

The hurricane threatened to lash Nova Scotia's south coast in full fury Thursday, but suddenly veered off into the Atlantic to the east of Sable Island. The blow brought a downpour of rain and heavy winds to the island.

Student Plans To Fight Ban By University

Segregation Issue Raised in Texas After Supreme Court Ruling

AUSTIN Tex (AP) — An honor graduate of a Negro high school looked for "some other method" today to enter the University of Texas after his acceptance notice was canceled by mail

Marion George Ford Jr of Houston the student refused admission, said he had not received a letter mailed him by H Y McCown, university registrar and of admissions But he admitted the announcement "caught me off guard"

"I don't know which way to turn" he said

Seeks Explanation

He said he and his mother Mrs Laverne Ford, would attempt to contact Tom Sealy of Midland Tex chairman of the university's Board of Regents, for an explanation

"If I'm unable to move him" Ford said "we'll have to use some other method to get my point over" He did not explain what method but said court action would be a waste of time

"In a few years there will be hundreds of Negro students at the university," he said "Why hold me back for this one year?"

After a recent U S Supreme Court ruling that segregation should end in public schools, the Texas Education Agency first announced it would abide by the decision but later said it would take at least a year for Texas to comply

Shivers' Stand Clear

Gov. Allan Shivers recently nominated for a third term, said in both the first primary campaign and in the heated runoff campaign that segregation would continue in Texas "as long as I am governor" The third term for which the Democratic party nominated him—usually equal to election in Texas—will not end until Dec 31, 1956

McCown's letter to Ford advised him that the freshman courses he would need in his chosen field, chemical engineering, are available at Prairie View A&M College a state school for Negroes near Houston Ford graduated with honors from Houston's Wheatley High School for Negroes

McCown said that if courses desired by Negro students are offered at either of the two state-supported secondary schools for Negroes "It is not our policy to compete with them for Negro students"

"I regret to advise you that your acceptance notice is hereby canceled" McCown's letter said

Negroes have been attending the university since 1950 in graduate and professional fields if courses they sought were not offered at state-supported Negro universities

Special Course Considered

Local Teachers Discuss Child-Parent Relations

Family relationships took the spotlight yesterday in a panel discussion which closed the third annual pre-school workshop of Marion city schools

The discussion, attended by approximately 275 people at Harding High School, summarized work done in 10 areas of teaching at the three-day workshop Leading state educators were members of the panel, which was moderated by Charles Harmon, president of the Marion City Board of Education

ALTHOUGH ALL TEN areas were covered discussion centered on improving relations between parents and children A recommendation was made that everyday family problems be discussed in schools It was suggested that these problems could be worked into courses in every grade

The possibility of a concentrated course in family relationship was explored The proposed course would be elective and given in the sixth grade

Panel members also stressed the importance of helping students' individual needs They said teaching in its finest sense is helping children solve problems — not passing out information

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS were made for

1 Having students study careers of successful people Seeing how others became successful helps students make decisions for their own lives, panelists suggested

2 Closer relationships between students and teachers Trust and confidence in a teacher can bring student problems into the open It was suggested that teachers discuss grades with students before reporting to parents

3 Getting the proper amount of discipline from students It was emphasized that too little discipline is as bad as too much discipline

4 Increasing public knowledge of school functions. Panel members said public knowledge of school activities will help bring a "team effort" in improving education

5 Considering student needs in setting up a school curriculum Panel members stressed thinking of what's best for students first, textbooks second

MEMBERS OF THE panel were Miss Mary Lu Eyster, critic teacher at Bowling Green State University, Miss Wilma Barnett, assistant professor of education at Muskingum College, Dr Norwood Marquis head of the Miami University department of education, Mrs Smith Witter, department of extension, Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, Dr Christine Hillman, Ohio State University home economics professor John Odgers, supervisor of guidance services for the State Department of Education Dr Herbert L Coon coordinator of research and services, Ohio State University School

Safety Council Predicts Toll Will Hit 390

CHICAGO (AP) — Summer's last long weekend lured millions of Americans to the highways, rails waters and skies today

From the big cities there was a general Labor Day exodus to beaches, mountains national and state parks and similar tourist attractions Railroads air lines and bus companies added special equipment and crews to carry the holiday load

The National Safety Council estimated that millions of automobiles will choke the roads and that 390 persons will be killed in traffic mishaps in the 78 hours between 6 p m today and midnight Monday

The council urged every motorist to use caution, drive at reduced speed and observe the rules and courtesies of the road

In Michigan, where license plates proclaim the state a "Water-wonderland" for tourists and vacationers Gov G Mennen Williams has declared a state of emergency over the weekend to keep traffic deaths down National Guard units are helping patrol the roads

ment such an army, to be strong enough, needed German troops

Th Allies thought they found a solution set up a single European army—called EDC the European Defense Community—in which six European countries including France and Germany would place their troops under a single command

The French stalled and this week killed EDC altogether That left the Western Allies where they were when they set up NATO five years ago no single European army and no rearmed Germany

Now the United States and Britain are talking of letting Germany rearm and become a member of NATO, which now has 14 member nations including the United States, Britain and France

But France is in a good spot to throw a monkey wrench in that too No new nation can become an NATO member unless all 14 present members approve.

If France used that veto to keep Germany out of NATO, the United States and Britain would have to find some other solution or try to change the NATO rules That might cost them their French ally If they don't let Germany rearm, they may lose their German ally.

Five Captured Yanks Freed By Vietminh

Release Announced By U.S. Embassy; All in Good Health

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—The U S Embassy announced today the "official" return of five American military technicians captured by the Vietminh near Tourane June 14 They will be flown tomorrow morning directly to Clark Field in the Philippines

All five were reported in good health They had been nabbed by the Vietminh on a beach near Tourane, where they had apparently gone for a swim The beach was out of bounds for the approximately 200 Americans who had been working in the area servicing American-supplied planes used by the French in the battle for Dien Bien Phu

The Vietminh turned the five over to the French at Qui Nhon in Central Indochina Tuesday The French who had been processing them as prisoners of war delivered the five today to Air Force Col William H Tudor air attache of the U S Embassy in Saigon

The five are now at Dalat about 145 miles northeast of Saigon They expect to reach Manila by noon Philippine time, tomorrow (11 p m EST Friday)

Efforts by reporters to reach the five have not been successful An American plane flew to Dalat on Wednesday, but returned to Saigon before the five arrived at Dalat Another plane tried to get to Dalat today but was held up by bad weather

The five are Ciro Salas Jr Los Angeles, Calif Giacomo Appice Elizabeth N J, Jerry Schuller Cleveland, Ohio all airmen and Donald E Morgan Flint Mich and Leonard R Stoufek Chicago, both U S Army privates

New Mexico Airman Elected Commander

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rear guard of the 36th annual American Legion convention started home today with a new national commander at the helm and a stack of resounding resolutions it hopes will influence government policy

The four-day convention ended officially yesterday afternoon with the veterans voicing in no uncertain terms their indignation about communism at home and abroad

Congress is certain to hear of fresh Legion demands for universal military training (UMT), for new anti-Communist legislation and investigations and for increased veterans' benefits

Seaborn P Collins Jr of Las Cruces, N M, yesterday elected national commander for the coming year, pledged a vigorous campaign to carry out dozens of resolutions

Collins a World War II flier was chosen unanimously to succeed Arthur J. Connell of Middletown, Conn

The convention also elected these other new officers

Vice Commanders Leonard Jackson, Clarks, La, Robert Shelby Salt Lake City, Howard C Kingdom Conneaut Ohio Patrick H Mangan Jr, Brattleboro, Vt, Dr Carl J Rees, Newark Del and national chaplain the Rev Albert J Hoffmann, Dubuque, Iowa.

President Back From Fishing, Works on Bills

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, back from a Rocky Mountain fishing trip hopes to complete action today on bills passed by Congress during the closing days of the session

Eisenhower and former President Hoover drove back late yesterday from Fraser, Colo, on the western side of the Continental Divide where they spent three days casting for trout and generally taking it easy at a secluded ranch

During the stay there the President also got in some work He signed into law more than 100 bills, most of them of secondary importance That brought to 473 the total number of measures he has approved since starting his Colorado work-and-play vacation Aug 21

He has killed 21 bills by pocket veto Nearly all were minor measures

Still awaiting action were about 20 other bills Aides said he might be able to act on all or most of those today

He had no scheduled callers at his Lowry Air Force Base office and a round of golf was in the works for the afternoon

Pupils Living in Scott District Get Assignment to Area Schools

Scott local school board has assigned all first through seventh grade students to Tully Caledonia or Grand Prairie for the 1954-55 school year in accordance with a plan adopted Aug 13 by the county board of education D T Mills superintendent of county schools reported today

Students in the eighth through twelfth grades of the Scott district will connue going to the several nearby schools they attended last year

Proposal on Ballot

A proposal for transferring territory from the Scott district to the adjoining Tully Caledonia and Grand Prairie school districts will appear on the Nov 2 ballots for voter sanction

The county board filed this plan with the board of elections on Aug 20 after receiving County Prosecutor Ralph Carhart's opinion that the district became dissolved on June 1, 1954 Carhart made reference to a new state law which called for the dissolution of all school districts which do not maintain schools

Tuition and transportation costs for the students of the Scott district will be borne by the Scott district Mills explained In order to clarify speculation as to how the expenses would be paid the Grand Prairie school board has passed a motion that it will not pay these expenses Mills reported School boards of the Tully and Caledonia districts also are expected to pass similar motions.

Would Assume Expenses

However these three boards would assume the expenses if voters approved the proposal in November If the proposal should not be approved the present arrangement will be continued throughout the current school year.

Under the proposal submitted by the county board, a portion of approximately 960 acres located in the northeastern section of the scott district would be transferred to the Tully district and an area amounting to approximately 715 acres in the southeastern section would go to the Caledonia district The remaining section of Scott district amounting to approximately 10 750 acres would go to Grand Prairie district

Chinese Islands

By George Sokolsky

Chiang Kai-shek's government holds not only the island of Formosa but a number of small islands that run up to the coast of Chekiang province.

SOKOLSKY

Actually, the Tachen islands are only 14 miles off the Chekiang coast. Quemoy is 15 miles off the Fukein coast. The Yangtze River delta includes Chekiang province

Shanghai, the metropolis of China, is in adjacent Kiangsu province, but geographically Shanghai is more a part of Chekiang than of Kiangsu, as, for instance, Chicago lies closer to northern Indiana than to southern Illinois.

THE ACHESON policy toward Formosa and these islands was that while the United States Seventh Fleet lies in Chinese waters to safeguard Formosa from being conquered by Red China, it also prevents Chiang Kai-shek from invading the mainland In effect, it neutralized Formosa.

Chiang, however, has succeeded in conducting some unimportant raids on the mainland, the objective of which was not military victory but espionage and contact with underground groups.

The Acheson policy continued to prevail to some degree up to the Geneva Conference. It is now being revamped. The siginificance of current excitement in the Far East arises from the calling of the Manila Conference which meets on Sept. 6.

IT IS POLITICALLY essential for Red China to capture these islands and even Formosa. As long as Chiang continues to hold Formosa, an anti-Communist underground movement will continue to exist and might grow in force as more elements on the mainland become dissatisfied or can be disaffected.

There is an old Chinese tradition on this subject. When the Manchus conquered China, tradition has it that the last of the Mings took refuge on Formosa and from that island sought to recapture China.

A Chinese pirate, a supporter of the Mings, who went by the historic name of Koxinga, ravaged the Chinese coast. He actually drove the Dutch out of Formosa. The Mings were a Chinese dynasty; the Manchus were aliens. Koxinga failed to restore the Mings.

HOWEVER, TWO secret patriotic societies, the Hung Pang and the Tsin Pang, the Red and Green Societies, were organized and for not quite three hundreds years, until 1911, these organizations worked underground to restore China to the Chinese

The Revolution of 1911, which made China a republic, led by Sun Yat-sen, was the achievement of these secret societies. Many of the principal leaders of the Revolution were members of the secret societies. Ningpo, a port in Chekiang province, was a center of Tsin Pang activity.

Chiang Kai-shek is a Ningpo man, a protege, in his youth, of the Chen family which was active in the Revolution, actually seizing Shanghai for Sun Yat-sen. It is probable that Chiang in his youth was a member of the Tsin Pang, although I cannot know it for a fact, as these societies remained secret in my days in China, only a few leaders making themselves publicly known.

SUN YAT-SEN told me stories of the heroism of the secret society members on many occasions and said that without them the 1911 Revolution could not have succeeded

I am convinced from what I observe happening in China today that the islands off the coast of Chekiang, held by Chiang Kai-shek, are again being used as bases for patriotic secret society activity.

There are families on some of those islands, particularly those close to Ningpo, that have a tradition of patriotism that never could be watered down by Marxian dialectics There are families who number many ancestors who died in the nearly three-century battle to save China from alien rule.

A VERY LARGE part of the population of Shanghai consists of Ningpo families and their ties would still be strong to the concept that no foreign conqueror may be tolerated on China's soil.

The new American policy seems to be developing in the direction of using our fleet to defend these islands as well as Formosa. From these islands such ports as Shanghai, Ningpo, Amoy, Swatow and Foochow, can easily be blockaded If air bases exist on them, as they undoubtedly do, the mainland can be bombed from close range.

Adm. Felix B Stump has given the Red Chinese every indication that seizure of any of these islands will be resisted. If this policy is carried out, it will be a definite diplomatic defeat for Chou En-lai, and from the standpoint of practicality, vitiates his success in Indochina.

Surplus Foods

By Victor Riesel

To prevent hunger in the midst of plenty, the government is opening bulging surplus food warehouses and is quietly distributing millions of dollars worth of free provisions to unemployed and partly employed workers in half the states of our land.

RIESEL

This "Operation Bread-Basket" is designed to tide thousands of families over a recession in the coal fields, remodeling layoffs in the auto industry and the summer slump in steel.

The distribution of part of the 457,000,000 pounds of government tins of beef and gravy, cheese, potatoes, non-fat dry milk, shortening and assorted types of beans is aimed at picking up the lag in hard hit areas which the government expects to revive economically with multi-billion dollar military and road construction expenditures.

Based on Agricultural Dept reports, Pittsburgh is the nation's worst hit city and the recipient of the largest amount of surplus food.

BECAUSE OF THE coal field slump — soon to be partially eased by federal spending of over $200,000,000 on the purchase and distribution of the black fuel — Pennsylvania leads all states in distribution of free surplus food.

Pennsylvania labor and state sources report that some 600,000 persons have been aided by the free food program And right behind the coal and steel state, according to the Agricultural Dept., which supervises the surplus food warehouses, are West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Oklahoma.

This breakdown is determined by the department on the basis of food shipped — and doesn't necessarily reflect joblessness in these states. Pennsylvania, however, does have more distressed labor market areas than most other states.

THE SHIPMENT and distribution of food is aimed at more than just passing a handout to workers caught for the moment in the nation's shifting of economic gears This free food is distributed to help not only the jobless but also the partially employed and those large families hit by the high cost of living. The food is no dole.

It is there for the asking — in any area where state and county officials are convinced by union and civic organizations to request it from the Dept. of Agriculture. It has been available for years—but the current distribution began after labor learned of the availability of food when tons of it were distributed during last year's drought.

In some parts of Pennsylvania, for example, authorities distribute the food to single men and women with incomes up to $32 50 a week The eligibility limit for families runs to a weekly income of $112.50 —if there are nine dependents.

THE FOOD IS shipped into central depots in carload lots — prepaid — by the government, which scoops the surplus out of its nearest warehouse The provisions are then reshipped to the proper distribution agencies. Many times, regular grocery stores offer their facilities to make the free food more easily available in their neighborhoods.

It's all done on a basis of coupons — with the slips having a trade-in value based on the number of people involved. The coupons usually call for two cans of beef and gravy and a pound each of every other commodity per person. The amounts are not uniform throughout the nation, but the coupon principle is. Then, after the first allotment is exhausted and replenished, new coupons are recognized or issued.

The CIO's National Community Services Committee, directed by Leo Perlis, has developed a technique for request and wide distribution of the free surplus foods. It is urging its state and regional councils to create agencies to handle the government surplus foods.

IT SEEKS THE launching of citizens' committees, to set up policy on certification and eligibility and especially distribution There already are such groups in some areas made up of merchants, truckers, wholesalers and labor people to arrange for the unloading of freight cars, providing of storage space, food trucking and the refrigeration of perishables—as well as the final distribution from privately owned stores.

Out of all this is evolving a spirit of community wide cooperation —and a series of "Operation Bootstrap" in many cities on which I will soon report — which will help carry many working families and their communities as well over the hump.

With 62,000,000 persons working, the 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 jobless will get a helping hand and food, too, while they wait for a break.

Aid to Romance

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Well, guess what we have now to spur lagging romances?

Electrical beauty engineering

HAL BOYLE

Yes, sir, that's right — electrical beauty engineering.

Many a beautiful courtship is broken up because the couple involved see too much of each other. For example:

Elsie, weary of the lack of fame and fortune she has found behind a typewriter, lays a trap for Elmer, her reluctant admirer.

She invites him to her apartment, sets him ablaze with a few dry martinis, and banks the fire with a fine home-cooked meal. She then lures him to the sofa. Elmer, soggy with comfort and secretly weary of bachelorhood, is ready to pop the question.

BUT HE LOOKS ACROSS the sofa at Elsie and what does he see? Under the cruelly bright floor lamp Elsie's hair looks like wires, each of her 1,312 freckles stand out like checkers on a checkerboard, and Elmer subconsciously is counting her chins—one, two, three. "Oh, no," he mutters, "Not that." Elsie is lucky if he doesn't jump up and race for the door.

Or, to be gallant about it, let's take it from Elsie's standpoint. She gazes across the sofa and what does she see? Are those hairs growing out of Elmer's ears—or feathers? Even more important Are those things really ears, or flanges? What does he use them for? To hear with—or to fan himself on warm days? Elsie decides she'd rather look at a typewriter the rest of her life than those ears

IN EITHER CASE the romance mildews because they have seen each other's defects too clearly, too soon

So now there's a little gadget on the market called a Luxtrol powerstat wall dimmer It operates on the theory that if love isn't blind, it at least should be nearsighted. By turning a little knob Elsie can make the light so soft and low her freckles become inviting mysteries and her three chins merge into one Elmer's ears recede into the background

Great little gadget for the hostess too. Saves her old man arm strain from lighting dinner candles. By turning the knob far enough the hostess can make the light so dim her guests may suspect how thin the steaks are, but they can't prove it unless they are caddish enough to strike a match and hold it close to the plate.

PEGGY CLARK, an expert who has supervised the lighting of 30 Broadway shows, ranging from "Beggar's Holiday" to "Kismet," thinks most home illumination could be improved by borrowing a few tricks from the theater.

"Properly used," she explained, "lighting can take years off a woman's age in the home—and off her husband, too—just as it does in a theater.

"For one thing, housewives use too many bright overhead lights. Why not have a frosted light hidden under a coffee table? Older actresses know the value of footlights—they remove the shadows from chin wrinkls."

—:—

PEGGY ALSO advocates highlights to bring out new furniture or any portion of a room a hostess wants to emphasize, soft lights for the areas she'd rather have overlooked She also feels women should have colored lights in the home that go well with their hair and complexion.

"For genuine blondes," she said, "a Surprsie Pink—actually it's a lavender-liver color—gives a cool-warm feeling that sets them off best

"But a brunette, or a drugstore blonde, needs a deeper pink light This also brings out the blues and greens in dresses, furniture or draperies.

"For a redhead the best color is one that in the theater is called Bastard Amber—a kind of pinky yellow. It heightens the glints in her hair."

But what if a wife thinks her own husband is the most attractive art object in her living room? How can she light him to bring out his hidden carms?

"O, Bastard Amber is best for the average husband," said Peggy positive. "takes that putty look off his face. Makes him look healthy and tanned, as if he had his office on a beach."

State Examiner Lauds Hospital at Mt. Vernon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State examiners today praised the business operation of Mount Vernon State Hospital.

Dr. Irville S Ryan has been superintendent since Nov. 5, 1941, of the institution that cares mainly for mental patients suffering from tuberculosis.

A report issued by State Auditor James A. Rhodes for the period between May 1, 1950, and Oct. 19, 1953, said in part:

"The business office, consisting of the busness manager, a chief clerk and one assistant, handles a large volume of work in a very efficient manner. The records are in good order. William F. Deetrick, business manager, is to be highly commended."

Upper Youth Top Winner at Ohio State Fair

The 100th annual Ohio State Fair closes today after a one-week stand at the fairgrounds in Columbus.

Marion area winners Thursday included Dennis King of Upper Sandusky who received the Junior Fair Sweepstakes Trophy for having the most cash prize winning entries in the junior fair. He received a total of $122 in premiums.

His brother, Robert, won the same prize three years ago.

The champion Red Poll steer owned by Walter Baughman of Kenton sold for a price of 30 cents per pound in the Junior Fair Steer sale. Current market price for fat cattle is from 24 to 27 cents a pound. The Kroger Co. was the buyer.

The entry of Fred Isler of near Prospect was named winner of the Duroc gilt contest held by the FFA and 4-H clubs combined. Isler received a trophy for his animal.

Tom Lauer of the Prospect 4-H Club placed second in the Brown Swiss junior heifer calf contest.

The fair closes this evening with a horse show in the Coliseum and a daredevil driving show in front of the Grandstand. Exhibits and livestock will be moved from the fairgrounds at 4 p.m.

Hoffman Asks Ohio Protection For Witnesses

Labor Prober Given Lausche's Assurance Against Interference

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov Frank J Lausche today promised co-operation with Rep Clare E Hoffman (R-Mich) to provide police protection for witnesses in the federal investigation in Cleveland of labor racketeering

Hoffman said yesterday he would appeal to the governor because witnesses "haven't the nerve to talk to our investigators"

Lausche said he read a published statement by Hoffman complaining that local authorities failed to guarantee protection for witnesses against reprisals by racketeers

Anticipating Hoffman's request the governor said he instructed Highway Safety Director U C Felty to provide state highway patrol protection for witnesses and contact local police chiefs for additional safeguards

The governor said his own investigation of the truck-loading racket disclosed that a roving unloader in one day got the equivalent of eight full days' pay He said the racket was centered in Cleveland and other major cities

Hoffman, who with Rep George H Bender (R-Ohio), is investigating labor rackets has not disclosed the scope of the Ohio inquiry Reports indicated it might reach into the juke box industry and various lines dominated by union labor Hoffman is in Cleveland with a House anti-racket subcommittee headed by Bender The subcommittee has scheduled a public hearing for late September in the Cleveland area

Woman Charged With Murder of Daughter-in-Law

WEST UNION Ohio (AP)—Maintaining her confidence that "God will take care of me," 50-year-old Mrs Dora Liter yesterday was charged with first-degree murder in the death of her daughter-in-law

The daughter-in-law, Edith, 27, died sometime in April authorities said Her body was found in Mrs Liter's home July 5

Sheriff Eugene Fulton said cause of death has not been determined Authorities did not explain why they believed Mrs Liter was responsible

When officers asked why she didn't report the death, she was quoted as saying

"I reported to the Lord That is all that is necessary. No one ever dies"

House Group Warns Of New Red Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Un-American Activities Committee says the Communist party has switched college-educated organizers from white to blue collar jobs in its drive to "colonize" the nation's basic industries

A prime Communist target is the automobile industry, the committee said yesterday in a report It said nearly 100 Communist intellectuals had been sent to work on Michigan auto assembly lines

The report said "colonizers"—a term for the college-trained Reds—were transferred from office-type jobs to bolster sagging Communist strength following the expulsion of alleged Communist-dominated unions from the CIO in 1949-50

Truck Rams Train, 4 Dead

2 Ohio Sisters Among Victims at Reesville

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio sisters and two Richmond, Ky., men lost their lives yesterday when a tractor-trailer slammed into a passenger train in the heart of the village of Reesville.

All were jammed in the driver's seat of the truck.

Dead were Katherine Myers, 19, of Rt. 3, Peebles, Adams County, Ohio; her 6-year-old sister, Verda Ethel; Tony B. Cox, 38, of Richmond, Ky., driver of the truck, and Clinton Simpson, 19, also of Richmond.

State police said Cox apparently did not see the Baltimore & Ohio train. The engine already was about 200 feet past the crossing on Ohio 72 when the truck hit the baggage car.

Reesville, a Clinton County village of 250 persons, is seven miles east of Wilmington.

The impact of the crash threw Cox and Katherine Myers from the truck.

Two train cars were damaged considerably, the state highway patrol said, but the train was not derailed.

Three train passengers received minor injuries from the jolt. They were Leonard A. Janauskas, 45, of Pittsburgh; Eloise Selts, 51, of Rayland, Jefferson County, Ohio, and Mary L. Patton, of Loveland, Hamilton County, Ohio. They were riding in the car behind the baggage car.

Pecans, Brown Sugar and Apples in Rich Pie

What a mixture of good flavors this pie contains!

Pecans, brown sugar and apples combine to make a rich, appetizing dessert that will be a fall favorite with your family.

Use:

¼ cup softened butter or margarine
½ cup pecan halves
2-3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
Pastry for 2-crust pie
6 cups sliced summer apples (about 2½ lbs.)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt

Spread softened butter evenly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Press pecan halves, rounded side down into butter. Pat brown sugar evenly over pecans. Roll out enough pastry for 1 crust, place in pie pan over sugar; trim, leaving ½-inch overhand. Combine apples, lemon juice, flour, sugar, spices and salt; pour into pie pan, keeping top level. Top with remaining pastry; trim even with bottom crust; fold edges together, flush with rim, and flute. Prick top of pie with fork. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees F., 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees F.; bake 30 to 45 minutes longer, or until apples are tender. Remove from oven. When syrup in pan stops bubbling, place serving lace over pie and invert. Carefully remove pie pan. Serve hot.

Town Fails To Pay Light Bill, Power Is Cut Off

HUGHESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The Scranton Electric Co. notified this eastern Pennsylvania town it planned to shut off power to the town Sept. 1 unless a 1953 bill totalling $1,100 was paid by that time. It wasn't.

Last night the town's lights went out.

The blackout affected only street lights and other city fixtures.

Borough Council has been unable to pay the bill because of a dispute among borough officials over the 1954 budget presented last January.

Hughestown, with 2,000 residents, is in the anthracite coal belt, hard hit by unemployment.

In the Service

Pfc. James A. Russell, son of Mrs. William Russell of 621 Ballentine Ave., is scheduled to leave Ft. Riley, Kan., early this month for armored gunnery training at Camp Irwin, Calif.

Russell is a gunner in the 87th Infantry Regiment's Tank Company which is to remain at the Mojave desert post until mid-October practicing with 90mm tank guns, mechanized flame throwers and armored machine guns. He entered the Army in July, 1953, after attending Heidelberg College one year. He is a graduate of Harding High School.

Rockfall Danger Seen at Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—The danger of new rockfalls on the American side of Niagara Falls—possibly over the Labor Day Weekend—has led to the closing of Luna Island and part of Goat Island.

The sightseeing points were ordered barred to the public yesterday after geologists reported seven big cracks in the area and called the situation "very dangerous."

Conditions were described as similar to those of July 28, when 185,000 tons of rock rumbled into the 160-foot gorge, carrying away a slice of the American falls and part of Prospect Point.

Lopez Still Confident as Cleveland Plays at Chicago

Tribe Awaits Return Games With Yanks; Lead Cut to 3½

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Al Lopez and his band of league-leading Indians left for Chicago today still confident of winning the American League pennant and itching to "get even" with the New York Yankees in Cleveland.

The two successive lickings by the Yankees sliced their once 5½-game margin to 3½ after they captured the first of the three-game series. But this did not seem to disturb Lopez too much. At least, not outwardly.

"I still feel we can hold the lead," he said after yesterday's 3-2 defeat. "I said after our Tuesday night's victory, they can hurt us now but they can't kill us."

Reminded that the tough White Sox will furnish the opposition in six of Cleveland's remaining 21 games, Lopez said grimly:

"What's the difference whom we play? At this stage of the race they're all tough. We've just got to keep on winning, that's all."

"And about the Yankees?" he asked. "They've got to win more games than we do. And don't forget this either. They've still got two against us."

"That's right," chimed in Bobby Avila, the team's fine second baseman and leading hitter. "Wait until we get them in Cleveland next time. It will be different there. We'll get even with them over there."

Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, had little to say about the pennant race.

"We're back in business, we're back in business," he told interviewers. "But we got to keep winning to stay in business."

Asked to explain his reason for yanking starter Whitey Ford with nobody on base, one out in the ninth and the Yankees ahead 3-2, the cagey skipper said:

"Ford was tiring. I could see it in the eighth inning when he walked their first pinch hitter (Rudy Regalado) on four pitches and their next pinch hitter (Hank Majeski) put one in the seats only to have my guy (Irv Noren) pluck it out.

"Besides, I had Allie Reynolds warming up in the bullpen for two days. Allie was ready. He's my meal ticket. When their No. 1 big guy (Larry Doby) homered in the ninth, I knew I had gone far enough with Ford. Especially with their No. 2 big guy (Al Rosen) up there."

Reynolds walked Rosen on four pitches but preserved Ford's 16th victory by disposing of Vic Wertz on a popup and getting Dave Philley to hit into a game-ending force play.

In beating the Indians, the Yankees packed all of their scoring into the sixth inning. Mickey Mantle slammed the first pitch into the seats for one run. A second scored on Andy Carey's sharp single after a two-base error by Vic Wertz and an intentional walk to Irv Noren. The third run came home on another error by Wertz, who knocked down Eddie Robinson's grounder but couldn't find the ball in time to make a play.

The Indians collected only three hits off Ford—homers by Sam Dente and Doby and a single by Avila. The loss broke an 11-game winning streak for 20-game winner Bob Lemon.

U.S. Golfers Lead In Curtis Cup Play

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP)—America's finest amateur women golfers, decisive winners over the cream of Britain's women golfers, need only two victories today to bring the Curtis Cup back to Uncle Sam.

The American Curtis Cup squad took a 3-0 lead in the eighth biennial international matches yesterday over the tough 6,163-yard Merion Golf Club course. It was the first time since 1932, first year of the cup competition, that the American girls won all three Scotch foursome matches.

Orioles' Job Considered By Richards

CHICAGO (AP)— Vice President Chuck Comiskey professes not to be worried by rumors the Chicago White Sox may have difficulty retaining Paul Richards as their manager.

Comiskey said he probably will talk contract with Richards today when the Sox return home to open a three-game series with the American League-leading Cleveland Indians, but he added:

"I don't think there is any question about where Paul will be next year. It'll be with the White Sox."

There has been talk that Richards is entertaining a tempting offer to become general manager of the Baltimore Orioles and that he will demand both a raise and a three-year contract to stay with the Sox.

Mrs. Grace Comiskey, Sox president, and other club officials are reported to be against more than a two-year pact.

General Manager Frank Lane has been quoted as saying Richards' pay as a baseball pilot is second only to that of the Yankees' Casey Stengel and that any new contract surely would provide an increase. Richards' salary is estimated at $30,000 a year plus a bonus of a nickel a head on attendance over one million. With 13 home dates remaining, the Sox attendance is 1,032,297.

Reds To Open 4-Game Series Against Braves

CINCINNATI (AP) — The fourth-place Cincinnati Reds tonight face the third-place Milwaukee Braves in the last Crosley Field night game but even a sweep of their four-game series could not close the gap between the two squads.

The Reds, a second division ball team the last nine years, are 11½ games behind the Braves. Four straight victories would narrow the margin to 7½ games with only 18 contests to go.

Milwaukee has lost four of seven Crosley Field contests this season and has the same record at its home field.

The two teams, idle yesterday, battle tomorrow afternoon and in a Sunday doubleheader.

Indianapolis Wins Association Crown

By The Associated Press

The Indianapolis Indians, who have led the American Association race from the start, officially are the champions today but the actual pennant-clinching last night wasn't of their own doing.

Columbus defeated second-place Louisville, 9-4, to eliminate the Colonels from mathematical contention despite the fact that Indianapolis was toppled by Minneapolis, 7-3.

Held to two hits for six innings, Columbus exploded against Bill Werle and reliefer Bob Smith for five runs in the seventh and added four more in the eighth.

Two homers by Jim Baxes led a 20-hit attack with which St. Paul plastered Kansas City, 12-4.

A storm and power failure at Toledo forced postponement of the Sox' game with Charleston.

THEY'RE HAPPY. Pat Lesser, Seattle, and Claire Doran of Cleveland, are jubilant after they led British golfers Mrs. George Valentine and Miss Philomena Garvey 7 up at the end of first 10-hole play in first-day matches in Curtis Cup Golf tourney at Ardmore, Pa.

Brion To Face Norkus In Heavyweight Scrap

NEW YORK (AP) — Argentina's Cesar Brion starts another bid to get back into the heavyweight rankings tonight when he faces Charley Norkus in a 10 - rounder opening Madison Square Garden's fall-winter boxing season.

The 6-foot-3, 200-pound Brion is a 5-8 favorite to rack up his second victory over the crude but hard-hitting ex-Marine from Bellrose, N. Y. The 9 p. m., EST, scrap will be broadcast and telecast nationally by NBC.

Akron Golf Will Benefit Boys' Group

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Professional golfers will carry $15,000 in prize money from the Rubber City Open tournament which goes into the second of four 18-hole rounds today—but the big winners will be a bunch of kids at Boys' Village near Wooster, Ohio.

The Akron Junior Chamber of Commerce and businessmen near Boys' Village guaranteed the $15,000 purse, and the sponsors will pour the profits into the unique community - supervised institution where boys with social or emotional problems are given a helping hand.

The race for the prize money opened with a bang yesterday over Firestone Country Club's hilly and heavily-forested 6,565-yard par 72 course, with 32 of the 115 starters breaking par and five of them winding up in a first-place deadlock at 67.

In the leadoff spot were Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kan.; Doug Ford, of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y.; Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, Earl Stewart, the red - haired former intercollegiate champ from Dallas, Tex., and Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio.

Wynn Reaches Final Round in Mar-O-Del Golf

Jim Lawler has advanced to the semi finals of the Mar-O-Del open golf tournament.

In play over the past week, Lawler defeated Robert Caldwell and then Dick Huddle. Jerry Wynn is aleady in the finals and awaiting the outcome of action finalist.

Lawler will meet the winner of the match between Gail Debolt and Lawrence Weiss in the semi finals.

Ray Augenstein, owner and manager of the Mar-O-Del course, reports no further action in the club championship over the past week. Dick Riddle has advanced farthest of any golfer in the tournament and is in the semi-finals.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Mickey Vernon, Washington Senators, became the third active player to collect more than 2,000 major league hits when he got three in Washington's 16-6 rout of Detroit. Vernon now has 2,002.

PITCHING — Russ Meyer, Brooklyn Dodgers, beat the Chicago Cubs, who once owned him, for the 16th consecutive time. The score was 10-2.

Praises Modern Shooter

Pistol Champ Unimpressed By Frontier 'Gun-Slingers'

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Harry Reeves, Detroit policeman who won his sixth national pistol championship yesterday, isn't too impressed by the prowess of the gun-toting badmen of the Old West.

During a stroll down the "ready" line at this National Guard encampment where the national matches wind up this week, we asked Harry how he thought a present - day gun-slinger would stack up against the best of the frontier bad guys.

"If the fight took place while the men were within 15 feet of each other it might be fairly even," Reeves answered. "But as th range lengthened, the old-timer's chances would fade.

"You read a lot of stuff about the quick draws of the Westerners, and of the men they killed. Most of the shootings were close-up affairs, and the one who did the killing generally had his gun out and was firing before his opponent realized it was a shooting matter. Most of those things were just premeditated murder, but the winner could plead self defense because his opponent had a gun—which he generally didn't get a chance to use."

Reeves insisted the "fast draw" of the Old West was mostly fiction.

"They all used the heavy, long-barrelled six-shooters—the clumsiest gun in the world to get out of a holster in a hurry. Given an even break, the present-day expert could out draw and outshoot all the old western marshals and bad men."

Reeves' 2,587 out of a possible 2,700 yesterday enabled him to retain the championship he won last year. He previously had won the pistol title in 1940-41-46-48. In second place was Joseph C. White of New Orleans with 2,572.

Pate Undecided On Outcome of Singles Action

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—No less an authority than Walter Pate, the Davis Cup captain who brought the mug back to the United States from England in 1937 and Australia in 1946, refuses to venture a guess on who will win the national singles championship.

Pate stared out on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club where the championship went into the seventh of its 10-day stand, and said:

"Nothing would surprise me in this tournament because we have no Jack Kramer, Pancho Gonzales or Fred Perry playing."

Tom Brown, 32-year-old San Francisco lawyer, yesterday eliminated the last of the foreign contingent—except for the Australians—Sven Davidson of Sweden, who incidentally, holds the United States indoor title, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, 8-6.

Only one quarter-final was slated for today. That pitted Lewis Hoad of Australia against National intercollegiate Champion Ham Richardson. Hoad, the No. 1 foreigner, made his bracket with a 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 victory over Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif.. Richardson advanced at the expense of Owen Williams of South Africa, 6-1, 6-2, 12-10.

Torio and Penry Team, Montana Win Matches

Bull Montana and the tag team of Dick Torio and Patty Penry were winners of the double main events on the wrestling card at the Marion Armory last night.

Montana won the first fall with knee lifts while Taylor took the second on a back breaker. Taylor was counted out on a full nelson. Two straight falls in the mixed girl and boy tag team match gave Torio and Penry the victory over Frank Hurley and Katy Branch.

Fights Last Night

MCKEESPORT, Pa. — Bob Baker, 214, Pittsburgh, outpointed Toxie Hall, 190, Chicago, 10.

OAKLAND, Calif. — Charley Powell, 216, San Diego, stopped Keene Simmons, 217, Bayonne, N. J., 6.

In 1944 when the St. Louis Browns won their only pennant, they beat Detroit by one game, winning 10 of their last 11 games.

"IT'S FOOLISH TO HURRY YOUR LUNCH"

Almost every day some doctor gives this simple advice to a patient. Relax, brother, the world isn't going to stop if you spend a full hour lunching leisurely at the Ritz. Bring your friends with you. No phone calls to distract you, a friendly waiter to take and fill your order, and who knows, you may pick up a big order or close a tough contract during that lunch hour.

Sweep Would Bring Brooks Close to First

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers are learning the hard way that a game won in April counts just as much toward the pennant as one in the September stretch drive

The Dodgers open a three-game set with the first-place New York Giants at the Polo Grounds, but even if they win these three they'll still be two percentage points short of the lead

Things would be considerably different if the Dodgers could reach back into the past and reverse the results of two games played in mid-April Brooklyn and New York were scheduled for four games against each other in the first six days of the season Rain washed out one and the Giants took two of the other three

By the margin of those two games the Giants lead the Dodgers 9-7 in the season's series with six to play. The last three come in the final week at Brooklyn

Only four games were played in the majors yesterday but two of them figured prominently in the flag chases The New York Yankees edged the Cleveland Indians 3-2, cutting a full game off the Indians' margin Brooklyn trounced the Chicago Cubs 10-2, moving within three games of the idle Giants

The Philadelphia Phillies shaded St Louis 5-4 and Washington swamped Detroit 16-6

Seven runs in the fourth inning helped Brooklyn end Chicago's seven-game winning streak During the flurry Gil Hodges hit his 36th homer, with one aboard Russ Meyer was the winner.

In Washington, Mickey Vernon added three hits to his previous lifetime total of 1,999 and became the third active player to pass 2,000 The others are Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter. Included in the hits was his 19th homer Roy Sievers broke the club's all-time home run record with his 23rd He drove in seven runs in the slugfest

Robin Roberts won his 19th game for the Phils as Harvey Haddix failed for the seventh time since July 30 to win his 16th Stan Lopata's three-run homer helped Haddix to an early shower.

Schools Open Term Tuesday At Cardington

CARDINGTON — A half day session at the Cardington School will be held Tuesday morning, with a full day of classes scheduled for Wednesday, Supt. J. L. Patterson said. The cafeteria will open Wednesday.

Teaching assignments are as follows: elementary teachers, first grades, Mrs. Mary Gantz, Mrs. Mabel Hindman, and Mrs. Mary McAlister; second grades, Miss Carie Philbrook and Mrs. Margaret Byrd; third grades, Mrs. Jane Mosher and Miss Ethel Bond; fourth grades, Mrs. Clarice Saunders and Mrs. Emma Schwartz; fifth grade, Mrs. Jean Wuescher and Mrs. Elva Hartpence; sixth grades, Mrs. Viola Ruehrmund and Mrs. Golda Gale. Mrs. Winifred Waite has been employed as a full time teacher this year, teaching elementary music and high school girls' physical education.

High school teachers are: Dennis Bell, physical education, biology, head football and baseball and assistant basketball coach; Miss Fae Burr, English, public speaking and Latin; Floyd Davis, science and mathematics; Mrs. Nelda Akron, English and mathematics; Lyman Hert, history; Miss Dorothy Lachvayder, home economics; Lawton McClintock, vocational agriculture; Mrs. Mildred Mowrey, English; Mrs. Ruth Patterson, English, junior high home economics; Ray Saunders, geography and mathematics; Hebert Schellenger, industrial arts; Gordon Shipley, science, physical education, and head basketball and assistant football and baseball coach; W. A. McAlister, principal, government and geography; William Dowler, instrumental and vocal music; J. L. Patterson, superintendent and mathematics.

Cafeteria cooks will be: Mrs. Dot Kreis, Mrs. Ivah Denton, Mrs. Dorothy Chalfant, and Mrs. Arlene Geckley; bus drivers, Dennis Bell, W. A. McAlister, Howard and Martha Lee, Vinal Cook, Frank and Lucille Ebert, Arthur Lee, Floyd Davis, Virgil Denton, and Bertha Stiffler. Custodians are Bernard Morris, L. T. Pinkston and Glenn Olsen. Mrs. Kathryn Brown will be office secretary as well as clerk of the board of education.

Film To Be Shown At Service in Park

"Pilgrim's Progress," an animated film version of the classic allegory by John Bunyan, will be shown at the Gospel Tent in Garfield Park tomorrow night.

The sound and color production by C. O. Baptista Films follows the original narrative concerning the journey of Pilgrim from the City of Destruction to the Celestial City.

Depicted in 100,000 drawings with 60 separate characters fitted with appropriate voices, against background of more than 300 painted scenes, the story is developed from Pilgrim's departure toward his final goal.

This will be one of the services of the Gospel Tent Crusade sponsored by the Maranatha Bible Church which will continue through Labor Day with Rev. Mark L. Mitchell of Canton as evangelist. His message tonight at 7:45 will be on "Christ the Sparrow."

No Terrorists at Air Base, Commander Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—No organized terrorist gang exists at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, officials there have announced following an investigation.

Brig. Gen. Jewitt T. Wheless, commanding officer, said yesterday the investigation disclosed nine airmen with the so-called Pachuco tatboo. The Pachuco has been described as a hoodlum gang dedicated to violence.

Eight of the airmen denied membership, the general said, and "didn't even know what Pachuco meant until all this publicity broke."

Gen. Wheless said the tatoos won't mean a thing as long as the men stay "good soldiers."

Reunions

LOYER

The annual Loyer family reunion was held Sunday at Aumiller Park in Bucyrus with relatives attending from Galion, Martel, Marion and Bucyrus. Next year's reunion will be at Mount Gilead.

WILCOX

The Wilcox family reunion was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lininger of Nevada with about 52 members present. Mrs. Esther Kuenzli of Springfield gave a talk of her trip abroad the past year.

Election of officers was held with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kramer named president and secretary-treasurer. A picnic dinner was served on the lawn and in the afternoon watermelon and ice cream were served. Guests were present from Toledo, Tiffin, Bloomville, Sulphur Springs, Bucyrus, Marion, Ridgeway, Springfield, Upper Sandusky, Carey and Nevada.

Convicted GI To Testify in Batchelor Case

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A Virginia soldier convicted of collaborating with the enemy while a war prisoner is expected to arrive tomorrow to testify in the court-martial of another soldier similarly charged.

Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Big Stone Gap, Va., sentenced to 10 years hard labor, is to be a prosecution witness in the trial of Cpl. Claude Batchelor, a Kermit, Tex., ex-POW.

Dickenson may not take the witness stand in the corrugated iron shed at Ft. Sam Houston here until Tuesday. The court-martial is to be recessed at the end of today's proceedings for the Labor Day weekend.

Batchelor and Dickenson were among the 25 Americans who originally chose to stay with their Chinese Red captors in North Korea. They were the only two who changed their minds and delivered themselves into Allied hands.

The Army indicated today's proceedings, like most of yesterday's, would be closed to the press and spectators because the witness is an Army intelligence agent. The agent took three statements from Batchelor in Tokyo shortly after the Texan arrived there from Korea. Batchelor's lawyer, Joel Westbrook, objected to the statements on grounds previous testimony had established no proof an offense had been committed. He was overruled.

School Hours For Richwood Are Advanced

RICHWOOD — School will open at Richwood at 8:45 instead of 8:55 a.m. this year.

The change in school schedule was made primarily to accommodate the students in the high school building who will be eating in the cafeteria. The cafeteria will be open to all pupils of both buildings. The price per plate will be 25 cents for elementary and 30 cents for high school pupils. No charge accounts will be carried.

Buses will operate the same routes this year, but the schedules will be five minutes earlier. Sixth grade pupils will report to the high school auditorium on the first day of school for assignemtns and general announcements.

Kindergarten pupils will attend half-day sessions. Those living in the country may ride on the buses if they live on a regular bus route, with their parents providing transportation for their return home at 11 a.m. Those living in town will report for the afternoon session at 1 p.m. The kindergarten is located in the high school building.

First classes for all grades, except the kindergarten, will be at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 7. A half day session will be held with full day operation starting on Wednesday. The kindergarten will open Wednesday, Sept. 8, as will the cafeteria.

John Cheney has been employed as a bus driver to replace Meredith Myles who has been employed as a teacher in the Middle School.

School Staff Lists Vacancy At Chesterville

CHESTERVILLE — One vacancy existed in the teaching staff at the Chesterville school this week according to Supt. W. G. Spies. A high school mathematics teacher is still needed.

Teachers will meet at 9 a.m. Monday and at 6:30 p.m. the same day will have a picnic at the home of coach, Glenn Hochenshilt. A half day of school will be held on Tuesday. A full day of classes will begin on Wednesday and the cafeteria will open the same day. Buses will return the children home by noon Tuesday.

Teaching assignments are as follows: first grade, Mrs. Bertha Evans and Mrs. Opal Rogers; second grade, Miss Gertrude Clement; third grade, Mrs. Luella Braden; fourth grade, Mrs. Neva Knouff; fifth grade, Mrs. Perry Levering; sixth grade, Miss Aubrey Jenkins.

High school: Glenn Hockenshilt, football and baseball coach science and social science; Richard Poling, basketball coach and social science; Marvin Webb, commercial; Miss Mabel Chipps, home economics and English; G. B. Pruitt, vocational agriculture; Mrs. Lillian Schmitt, music; and W. G. Spies, supervision.

Mrs. Hubert Potts will be in charge of the cafeteria and she will be assisted by Mrs. Amy Hair and Mrs. Anna Cooper. Meals will be 25 cents to all.

Bus drivers are: John Chipps, Donald Pruett, Fred Fisher, Joe Fisher, Earl Alspach, Chester Sipes and William Denman. Hubert otts is the school custodian and he will be assisted by William Fisher.

REMODEL AT WESTFIELD

WESTFIELD — A new kitchen is being installed at the Westfield Methodist Church, located in the northeast corner of the basement where there were formerly two small rooms. Two new sinks will be installed and other repairs made in the near future. The old kitchen will be used for a class room.

Ad Mailings Boost Postoffice Revenue To Record Heights

A record in postal receipts was recorded at the Marion post office in August, Homer Cole, postmaster, revealed today. A total of $138,415.76 was received at the local office, bringing the 1954 total to date to $710,646.74.

Helping to boost the total was a shipment from the Jay H. Maish Co. of 1,000,000 pieces of first-class mail for the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, the largest single shipment of first-class mail in the history of the local office.

Also helping boost the receipts was the shipment by the Fulfillment Corp of America of part of 30 million pieces of third-class mater, a shipment made for the Pillsbury Co.

Cole said this was the largest third class mailing ever undertaken by the postal service. All 30 million pieces of mail are to be sent out by the end of October, he said.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices were marked up today in the stock market with trading quiet in the early afternoon.

The advance carried some issues up around 2 points, but not many. Losses were small with one of two key issues sagging more.

The coming three-day holiday over Labor Day was regarded as the damper on trading. Many in Wall Street got away for an early start. Business hit a pace even less than yesterday's depressed 1,600,000 shares traded in a moderately higher market.

Best gains were displayed in the steels, railroads, oils, coppers, rubbers, and aircrafts. Others were mixed or narrowly quiet.

Higher were such issues as Santa Fe, Katy Railroad Preferred, Barber Oil, American Telephone, U.S. Steel, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Northrop, Pacific Mills, and Kennecott Copper.

Virginia Man Admits Taking Boys' Wallets

Charges of petit larceny against a Virginia man, who has admitted taking money from the Caledonia school locker room Tuesday, are expected to be filed today by the Marion County sheriff's office.

Clarence William O'Neill, 21 of Alexandria, Va., was apprehended Tuesday evening by Marion police after investigating deputies from the sheriff's office were notified of the theft of between $20 and $30 and a billfold from the clothes of five Caledonia football players.

O'Neill, who was a magazine salesman seeking sales in the Marion area, had begun his employment on July 30 in Washington, D. C. Since that time he had worked in Maryland, Virgipia, and West Virginia, as well as Dayton, Zanesville, Middletown, and Barnesville in Ohio, and had passed approximately 12 fradulent and forged checks, deputies reported.

The theft of the money from the players' clothes was discovered when one of the boys found someone else's billfold in his clothes. The boys then compared notes and notified Caledonia Mayor Lowell Douce who in turn reported the theft to the sheriff's office.

O'Neill is also wanted on a federal charge involving one of the forged checks, deputies said.

CURFEW VIOLATORS STOPPED

Two Marion boys, 10 and 12 years old were taken into costudy by city police at 11:20 p.m. Thursday night as they walked along in E. Center St. near McWilliams Ct. for violation of the city curfew. They were cited to appear before Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell. The curfew law stipulates that no boy or girl under 16 may be on the streets or in public places after 10 p.m. unless accompanied by their parents or guardian.

Bible Words for Today

JOHN 15:11 — "These things have I spoken unto you that my joy might be in you, and that your joy might be full."

* * *

Christianity is a religion of life, love, hope, and also of happiness — deep, abiding happiness. Here Jesus summarizes all that He had spoken and the sum is fullness of joy.

Christianity is an overcoming religion — life overcomes death. It is a religion of love — love overcomes hate. It is a religion of hope — hope overcomes pessimism. Now life, love, and hope become a great reservoir from which Christian joy bubbles forth.

This joy is so practical. It overcomes the negative destructive forces like "nerves", "fears", and "the long face". Experience teaches that a long face shortens your list of friends. A Christian should be a veritable force of optimism. His smiling face should be a testimony that Christ lives in his heart.

St. Paul Lutheran Church at Prospect will hold its service Sunday at 10:30 a.m. at Lutheran Memorial Camp near Fulton, followed by a potluck dinner at the camp lodge. There will be no Sunday School meeting. Those who wish transportation to the camp are to be at the church by 9 30 a.m., Rev. Paul E. Dobberstein, pastor, announced.

The service will be held in the open air chapel unless unfavorable weather makes it necessary to use the main building there. Sermon theme will be "Our Motives for Labor."

Wednesday night the Luther League will be entertained by Roberta Roberts. Taking part will be Marilyn Wood, Mary Alice Kietzman, and Jean Watkins. Mrs. B. J. McNeal will be hostess for the Missionary Aid Society Thursday afternoon. Those on the program will be Mrs. Clarence Kietzman, Mrs. Harry A. Lauer, and Mrs. Paul Dobberstein. Confirmation groups will meet again Sept 11 with Senior Class resumed at 8:45 a.m., and Junior Class at 10

Route Changes On Silver St. and Northeast Loop

SCHOOL SERVICE

SILVER ST. — A.M. — School Bus leaves Lee and Evans at 7:55 A.M. and follows regular route (as changed below) to St. Marys at 8:08 A.M. to State St. Junior High at 8:10 A.M. to Harding High at 8:20 A.M. Adults should board this bus also, getting off at State and Center, since this is the regular bus and not a school extra.

SILVER ST. — P.M. RUN No. 451 — Leaves Harding High at 3:25 P.M. Connects with all lines at Courthouse at 3:30 P.M. and goes regular route (as changed below.)

OAKLAND HEIGHTS — A.M. RUN No. 101 — Leaves Bellefontaine and Davids at 7:50 A.M., goes on Bellefontaine to Maynard to Sheridan to Woodrow to Davids. Leaves Woodrow and Davids at 7:55 A.M. Goes regular Davids St. Route to Courthouse, making connections with Northeast Loop at 8:15 A.M., arriving at Harding High at 8:23 A.M. Returns to Courthouse for connections with East Center and Southwest Loop at 8:30 A.M., arriving at Harding High at 8:38 A.M.

All Harding High students should return via above-mentioned Silver St. P.M. School Bus, Run 451, and transfer at Courthouse to regular buses.

SHOP SPECIAL TO THE CHENEY AVE. SHOPS:

Special Bus carries "CHENEY AVENUE SHOPS" sign, leaves Indiana and Kensington at 6:20 A.M., arrives Courthouse at 6:30 A.M., where connections with all lines are made. Goes West Center to Marion Power Shovel, turns on Davids Street (does not make Bennett St. Loop), arriving at POLLAK STEEL, Gate No. 1 at 6:41 A.M., makes stops at MARION METAL PRODUCTS, COMMERCIAL STEEL CASTING, OSGOOD SHOVEL all by 6:45 A.M.

SILVER ROUTE CHANGE

In order to serve more people the Silver St. Route is changed as follows: Present route outbound, making Thompson and Lee loop and coming inbound on Silver St. to Avondale. North on Avondale to Blake, right on Blake to Bartram to Fairground to Oak St. (arriving at Veterans Housing 7 minutes and 37 minutes after the hour). South on Oak St. to George to State to the Courthouse. NO CHANGE IN SCHEDULE!

Patrons on Toledo Ave. are reminded to board the bus on Avondale. Patrons on Silver St. between Oak St. and Avondale should catch the outbound bus since there is no inbound service between these two streets. Stops on new route are marked.

"Northeast Loop" Route Changes:

To better serve the new Shopping Center Northeast Loop buses will go on West Center to Oak St. to George to Main and on regular route.

In order to provide better service for Northeast Loop patrons residing north of MARK ST., inbound buses will now cross Greenwood St. and proceed on MARK ST. to STATE ST., turning left on STATE ST. to town. New Bus Stops on MARK ST. have been marked. The bus will no longer run on GREENWOOD south of MARK ST., nor on GEORGE ST.

No Change In "Northeast Loop" Schedules

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The BBC Goes Commercial

The British are about to embrace commercial television—Gads, Boothby, we lost India and now this!—and they may be in for a shock. They may like it. It is this that is causing more concern than anything else.

J. CROSBY

If commercial television, when it arrives, were to be found by the British to be absolutely everyone, most Britons—or at least most of those Britons who write to The Times—would be immensely gratified. The British could then feel that the "American system of broadcasting," as commercial broadcasting is known, was suitable only to those vulgar Americans, that no Briton could stomach it.

-:-

BUT SUPPOSE THAT the British not only can stomach it but like it? What then? The fact is that the English have been subjected to such a barrage of propaganda about the vulgarity of American broadcasting that anyone watching the "American system" and finding himself enjoying it is going to feel terribly guilty about it.

And yet I have a suspicion the English are going to like commercial broadcasting very much. It won't be the first time. During the war, the Armed Forces Network which we built there for our own troops broadcast many American radio programs. Those Britons nearby our camps tuned in in droves. Several of our vulgar American TV programs, notably "What's My Line?" and "Down You Go," are on the BBC and are immensely popular.

I'm always bemused by this matter of taste, anyhow. Recently, for example, Sir Thomas Beecahm, England's noted conductor, wrote a series of articles for The Times of London, defending the American system of broadcasting. Some of the defense was very sound; bits of it were decidely curious.

SAID SIR THOMAS, among other things, about an evening spent watching our TV: "Availing myself of a dozen different channels (Sir Thomas must have been midway between New York and Philadelphia, tuning in on both cities. Even then you couldn't get a dozen), I found myself enjoying a highly attractive series of spectacles. Each evening I viewed a first-rate boxing match. (Really? Each evening? Where did you get this set, Sir Thomas?) and, most absorbing of all, a wrestling contest, something with which our own public is comparatively unfamiliar.

"I know of little more virile and exciting than the sight of one gentleman, weighing about 17 stone picking up another of similar avoirdupois and throwing him over his head with as much facility and address as if he were handling bales of cotton or sacks of coal. I enjoyed other truly masculine and adult exhibitions of a similar sort which find place rarely in our one and only monopolistic institution."

WHAT DO YOU SUPPOSE the other "truly masculine and adult exhibitions" were—roller derbies? I suppose it would be unkind to inform Sir Thomas that our wrestling matches are as phony as a three-dollar bill and I hope that none of you will. "Adult and masculine," eh? Who — Georgeous George?

Some of the British attacks on our system are kinder than this defense. In reply to this defense, I think it only fair to point out that our wrestling matches belong to the early Neanderthal period of American television along with Faye Emerson (who sometimes refers to herself as the Pola Negri of TV.)

-:-

WE HAVE LARGELY outgrown wrestling and gone on to the higher things like "Strike It Rich" and "Kathryn Murray." But I'm slightly astounded that a man like Beecham who admits there is a "good deal of rubbish" on our TV should pick out as one of the better things, wrestling. Whose taste is better than whose and who is vulgar, again?

Another noted conductor from abroad was also a great devotee of televised wrestling, too. Name of: Arturo Toscanini. Toscanini used to watch wrestling everytime he could find any to watch, shouting "Keel him! Keel him!"

Bloodthirsty boys, these conductors.

Sum Up Races in 26 States

Leaders Confident GOP Will Win Victory in West

Editor's Note—This is the first of two articles reporting the claims of Republican leaders in 26 key states on how their party will fare in the November election battle for control of Congress.

By JACK BELL and REED SMITH

CINCINNATI (AP) — Republican leaders expressed confidence today that the GOP will more than hold its own in the western half of the country in the battle for control of Congress.

Through their public statements, however, ran some dark threads of doubt about the farmers' reaction to the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support program and fears of possible party losses in depressed employment areas.

Claim 17 House Seats

In interviews with Associated Press reporters, organization leaders attending the Republican National Committee campaign strategy conference which ended yesterday claimed a net gain of 17 House and 5 Senate seats in 14 key Midwestern, Rocky Mountain and Far Western states.

The present Senate lineup is 48 Republicans, 46 Democrats, 1 independent and 1 vacancy. In the House, there are 218 Republicans 213 Democrats, 1 independent and 3 vacancies.

No GOP National Committee member or state chairman was willing to concede publicly any losses to the Democrats, although Vice President Nixon said frankly such results were possible in areas where unemployment is high.

Michigan Weak

Michigan was mentioned as among such areas and John Feikens, state GOP chairman, said this factor must be taken into account. He said economic conditions in October might determine the Michigan outcome in November elections.

"The economic situation in Michigan is tight," he said. "We Republicans think it will improve before the election and that it may prove the determining factor."

Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican, is opposing Democrat Patrick McNamara for the Senate and Republican Don Leonard, former state police commissioner, is battling Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, seeking re-election.

Feikens said he thinks Republicans have a "fighting chance" to gain one seat in the House.

John H. Rouse, executive secretary of the Republican party of Wisconsin, predicted a third term for GOP Gov. Walter Kohler and a gain of one or two seats in the party's congressional delegation.

Battle in Minnesota

In Minnesota, Republicans are bucking a tough, adroit campaigner in Democratic Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey. But State Chairman Gordon Yock said he expects Val Bjornson to win the GOP senatorial nomination in a Sept. 14 primary and take Humphrey in November.

Morton H. Hollingsworth, Illinois GOP chairman, expressed confidence Republican Joseph T. Meek, lately given a political pat on the back by President Eisenhower, will defeat Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in November. But Hollingsworth's outward confidence evidently was not fully shared by some Republican campaigners.

Despite an intensive drive by Democrats, Republicans expect South Dakota to stay in the GOP column.

"If we don't, the party will be in trouble all over," asserted Axel J. Beck of Elk Point, national Republican committeeman.

He predicted Sen. Karl E. Mundt GOP incumbent who presided at the Army-McCarthy hearings, will win by at least 40,000 votes over Kenneth Houn of Groton, the Democratic nominee. Mundt has said he will ask the next Congress to reinstate high-level, rigid farm price supports.

The Salton Sea in southern California was formed in 1905-07 when the Colorado River broke through a gap in its levee and poured into the below-sea-level valley.

NOTICE—BRIDGE SALE

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Marion County Commissioners of Marion, Ohio, until 10:00 A.M. (E.S.T.) Sept. 20, 1954 as follows:

For furnishing all materials and performing all labor for the construction of new concrete abutments and superstructure, installing drain tile, moving old bridge and stone to county yard and making necessary changes as shown on plans and profile on file in the County Engineers Office.

Project located on County Road No. 26 section "X" over Noblet Ditch.

The foregoing being designated by the Board of Commissioners in their resolution adopted Aug. 19, 1954.

Said improvement shall be done in accordance with Ohio State Highway Specifications for 1953, for concrete bridges, and plans on file in the Marion County Engineers Office.

Quotations shall be submitted upon blanks furnished by the Marion County Engineer and shall not exceed the estimated cost of labor and material—total $9,991.40.

Sealed bids will be publicly opened on the above date, read and an award made at that or such time to which consideration of said bids may be duly adjourned as provided by law.

All bids shall be accompanied by either a deposit of money or a certified check on some solvent bank, in the amount of five per cent (5%) of the estimated cost of the improvement, made payable to the order of the Board of Marion County Commissioners as a guarantee that said bidder will sign the contract for the performance of the work and furnish bond. The bond will amount to one-half (½) of the estimated cost of the improvement, for the proper construction and completion of the contract, as required by law.

The minimum wages to be paid all labor employed on this contract shall be in accordance with the schedule of prevailing wage rates in Marion County, as ascertained and determined by the Department of Industrial Relations, in accordance with sections 4115.03, 4115.04, 4115.05, 4115.06 and 4115.07 of the General Code of Ohio.

Bids must be signed by all parties interested in the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids

By order of the Board of Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio,

REED OURS,
County Engineer

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio. Dorothy Leota Hord Executrix of the Estate of Mamie R Grace, deceased, Plaintiff vs. Dorothy Leota Hord, et al, Defendants. Case No. 26577.

George L. Grace, whose last known address is 8160th A. U., APO % Postmaster, San Francisco, California, will take notice that on the 12th day of August, 1954 Dorothy Leota Hord, executrix of the estate of Mamie R. Grace, deceased, filed her petition in the Probate Court of the County of Marion, State of Ohio for the sale of the real estate of which the said Mamie R. Grace died seized; that the said Mamie R. Grace died seized in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:

TRACT NO. 1: Situated in the City of Marion, State of Ohio, County of Marion and bounded and described as follows:

Being in Township 5, Range 16 and being the south half of the east half of the north half of the south half of lot No. 9 in Peters Second Addition to the City of Marion, Ohio, and now known as lot number 286 situated and fronting on Prospect Street together with the rights and privileges of uninterrupted and joint use of the driveway located between the property herein described and the property immediately north thereof, it being understood that the two south stalls of the garage at the rear of said premises are exclusively upon the property herein conveyed and the north stall of said garage is exclusively upon the north property.

TRACT NO. 2: Being an undivided ⅓ interest in the following described property: Situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion, and State of Ohio and bounded and described as follows:

Being Lot No. 8091 in Joseph Woodcock's Addition to the City of Marion, Ohio. Also situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion, State of Ohio and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the west line of Pearl Street in said City at the southeast corner of what was formerly lot No. 1 in Thomas Henderson's Addition to the town of Marion, Ohio, thence south a distance of about 12' to the half section line running east and west through section 28, township 5 south, range 15 east; thence west along the half section line aforesaid to a point in said line directly south of the southwest corner of said lot No 1 aforesaid; thence north a distance of about 12' to the southwest corner of lot No. 1 aforesaid; thence east along the south line of what was formerly known as lot No. 1 in Henderson's Addition to the town (now city) of Marion, Ohio, and the half section line running east and west through section 28 aforesaid. Said Henderson's Addition is recorded in Plat book No. 1 at page 33 in the Recorder's Office in said county, but the same is now vacated.

TRACT NO. 3: Undivided ½ interest in the following:

Being the south part of the east part of lot No. 352 in Sloans Second Addition to said City of Marion, Ohio and bounded as follows, to-wit:

On the east side by Cherry Street; On the South by the north line of lot No. 354 in said Sloans Second Addition to Marion, Ohio, on the west by a lot formerly owned by Charles F. Mayer and wife and west line running north and south, one-half distance between Cherry and Windsor Streets and supposed to be 75 feet 9 inches to a corner of a lot owned by Frank Mayer and is bounded on the north by said lot of Frank Mayer and to be 45 ft, and 8 inches in width front and rear, to contain about one-fifth of an acre and is part of said lot 352 as aforesaid.

The prayer of said petition is for the sale of the above described real estate pursuant to the terms and provisions of the Last Will and Testament of Mamie R. Grace, together with the fractional interests in Tracts Numbers 2 and 3 owned by tenants in common with said Mamie R. Grace. The persons above mentioned will further take notice that they have been made party defendants to said petition and that they are required to answer the same on or before the 16th day of October, 1954.

DOROTHY LEOTA HORD,
Executrix of the Estate of Mamie R. Grace, deceased.

I WISH to express my appreciation to neighbors and friends for the flowers and other acts of kindness shown at the time of the loss of my husband, Mr. Robert C. Owens.

I feel I have lost him,
But that isn't true.
He has gone on ahead
And waits for me and you.
I will meet him again
On a happier day,
For I haven't lost him,
He is only away.

MIDDLETOWN, R. I. (AP) — Sailor Henry L. Armstrong was enraged when speeding automobiles continued to flash by his upraised thumb. So the 19-year-old hitchhiker stepped in front of the next car to come along and was knocked flat. Condition: generally unhurt but wiser.

G-T SWEEP

NEW YORK (INS)—Gin and tonic, the bubbly proof that lend-lease to England sometimes works in reverse, is sweeping the big cities of America. One of the four major producers of quinine water in this country estimates that more than 2,500,000 cases of the tonic mixer will be produced during the current three-month summer-drink season ending in September. That's 60,000,000 bottles, or 120,000,000 highballs by normal pouring standards.

HOUSE TROUBLE

ZEELAND, Mich. (UP) — The sight of a house being moved on the highway ahead of her confused Mrs. Lola Rice of Schrewsberry, Mo. Instead of heeding a policeman's warning and driving around the house, Mrs. Rice drove right into it. She told police she thought it was a weighing station and the policeman was directing her toward it.

Godfrey Cited For Promoting Air Education

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—It's Arthur Godfrey's opinion that "people who haven't flown haven't lived."

That was the radio and television performer's comment here yesterday as he received a diamond-studd silver punch bowl given him by the Virginia Advisory Committee on Aviation for his contributions to flying education.

Godfrey told a regional meeting of the National Aviation Trades Assn. he passed a physical examination to enable him to pilot his own plane again Sept. 16.

That's the day the Civil Aeronautics Board will reinstate his flying license, suspended March 16 on charges of careless flying at the Teterboro, N. J., Airport.

Victim of Hay Fever Sneezes, Wrecks Car

HOLTON, Mich. (AP)—Herbert Hislop, 38, of Holton, suffered more than the usual agonies of hay fever today.

A fit of sneezing gripped him while he was driving along US20 near Holton Thursday.

Hislop said he lost control of his car which smashed into a utility pole. He was uninjured but the car, Hislop said, "is a mess."

Mexicans Gird For Sportsman Trade in U.S.

MEXICO CITY (UP) — Mexico may become a "happy hunting grounds" for American sportsmen once again.

An American hunter has won government permission to bring sportsmen south of the border without the red tape that previously barred all but the most determined.

Tex Purvis, of Jackson, Wyo., said he believes Mexico's back-to-nature attractions now will bring big game hunters and deep-sea anglers "in hordes."

"It took three years of negotiations," he said, "but we finally got the official okay to operate a year-round service for foreign sportsmen.

"Before, there was a lot of red tape for hunters and fishers to come into Mexico. Now they can do it with their full equipment and ammunition any time they want during the open seasons."

Purvis, a retired army colonel, said his new company, Tex Purvis de Mexico, S. A., has already been approached by more than 3,000 U. S. hunters and anglers who want to come down this fall.

"Safaris here," he said, "cost only about one-fourth of what they cost in Africa, and licenses are about the same as in the United States.

"Waterfowl, doves, quail, bear, jaguar, turkey, deer, javelina, lion, monkeys and fresh and salt water fishing cover the wide variety in stock for American sportsmen."

The outfitter said his "easily workable system" permits Mexican counsuls throughout the United States to issue hunting and fishing licenses to practically any applicant wanting to make the trip.

"Previously, the counsuls were responsible for what the hunters did with their rifles and ammunition. Today, that has been eliminated with a simple method by which counsuls issue licenses to anybody showing up with good character certificates from their county sheriffs."

Purvis said the Maharajah of Bombay Hira Singh, has asked his company to arrange for him to come and hunt jaguar, lions, tigrillo, pumas and other cats. He is bringing a party of 12 Indian assistants and servants.

"We're honorary game wardens, and on our part the laws are going to be rigidly enforced," he said. "We're the first to be interested in preserving the breeding stock and taking only the yearly increases."

He added that income from licenses to foreigners will be reinvested in breeding and creation of additional law enforcement agencies.

"However," Purvis said, "I have deliberately kept this company away from government agencies as this is a very specialized business."

His company has eight prominent Mexican associates and expects "at least 300 or 400 big names to come down this fall and hunt.

"For fishing, we'll probably get twice as many, and we wouldn't be surprised if the 3,000 sportsmen who have approached us make the trip, too," he said.

To be free from evil thoughts is God's best gift. — Aeschylus

Police Report Three Mishaps

State Patrol Lists One County Accident

Three minor, no injury traffic accidents, one involving less than $100 damage, were reported today by Marion police. The state highway patrol reported one no injury collision on county highways.

One collision in the city involved cars driven by James W. Williams, 18, of near Marion and Raymond E. Jones, 35, of Toledo. It occurred at 6:45 p.m. Thursday at W. Center St. and Olney Ave.

The other collision occurred at 11:07 p.m. Thursday in front of the N. Main St. School. Cars involved were driven by John C. Leite of Fremont and M. F. Demint, 35, of near Newark.

Driver Cited in Crash

A 17-year-old Marion County youth was ordered to appear in Municipal Court at a later date following a one-car accident in which he was involved Thursday night in Caledonia.

John Ulsh of near Marion was cited for driving left of center by state patrolmen from the Marion post, who investigated the mishap at 8:15 p.m. It was the only accident repoarted by patrolmen in the past 24 hours.

Ulsh was driving north on Water St. in Caledonia and failed to see a barricade at a construction site inside the town until he was too close to stop. He swung his car off the left side of the pavement and went into a ditch.

Extensive damage was done to the left front and both sides of his car. He was uninjured in the crash.

Attorney Gives Talk

Kiwanians Told of Extent Of Ohio's Dope Problem

Getting the private citizen to realize there is a narcotics problem in Ohio is one of the chief tasks of the Citizens Narcotics Advisory Committee, Alvin I Krenzler told members of the Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon at Hotel Harding

Speaking at the weekly meeting of the club, Krenzler outlined some of the objectives of his group and told of some of the problems and situations it has met in trying to formulate legislation which would minimize the narcotics problem in the state.

KRENZLER, who is an attorney in Cleveland, was appointed executive secretary of the committee shortly after it was authorized last October.

He said his group had studied the records of federal state, and local officials in an effort to get a clear picture of the problem in Ohio He said one of the main problems he faced was the feeling by public officials that narcotics problems existed everywhere except in their own localities

However, he said, upon investigation of the records, those officials were shown that problems exist in almost every city and county in Ohio

Ohio is one of four states which have undertaken an investigation by citizens into the problem. He said the committee had talked with addicts and peddlers themselves in order to get a better insight into the problem.

OBJECT OF the committee is to propose legislation to curb narcotics sales in the state, then see that it is enforced after passage

Krenzler gave a breakdown of narcotics describing the various drugs and how they are grown, manufactured, and administered

He said the main problem with addicts as not their addiction, but the crimes to which they turn in an effort to obtain money to buy more drugs

An average addict will spend between $5,000 and $7,000 per year on drugs alone.

Since most cannot earn that much legally, they turn to such crimes as shoplifting, larceny, burglary, and prostitution With a rate of exchange for stolen goods of about 20 per cent, Krenzler pointed out a thief must steal about $25,000 to $30,000 worth or merchandise a year to finance his purchases

The drug addict is a scourge on the entire community Frequently an addict's family will become delinquent because of lack of support. They must then be supported by taxpayers

IN THE SMALL community such as Marion, the main problem is not the dope rings found in larger cities, but the transient addicts who come into town and rob local stores to buy their drugs in large cities He said such a problem exists throughout the state

One of the problems which must be met in Ohio is the lack of a legal distinction between the occasional user, the drug addict the addict-peddlar, and the commercial peddlar

Control of smuggling would be impossible, according to the speaker He said it is the very nature of the drug, which is easy to conceal which makes it difficult to nab smugglers

He said though that by enacting legislation which is carefully thought out, the problem in Ohio could be held to a minimum.

KRENZLER WAS introduced by Smith H Witter, program chairman for the day

Two new Kiwanians, Carroll Lockwood and Harry Steiner, were formally introduced to the club Ray Reidenbaugh, chairman of the Apple Day Sale, announced the annual sale of apples for the benefit of underprivileged children would be held Friday and Saturday, Sept 24 and 25

Guests at Thursday's meeting were J H Harmon, Thomas Rudabue, Joseph Urie, Virgil Campbell, Rev Ashley Booth, and Cleo Ludwig Visiting Kiwanian was Arthur Yarian, of the Elyria club, director of child study and guidance in the Marion City Schools.

Dayton Ready For Opening of Big Air Show

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Crowds of persons who like their heroes to travel faster than sound will gather in nearby Vandalia tomorrow, Sunday and Monday for the National Aircraft Show.

On display will be jets, missiles and other aircraft The skies will buzz with attempts to break last year's speed records, some as high as 707 m p h.

While the Air Force displays its improved might other, AF officials are at work to push American air power even "further and harder"

J. Roger Lewis assistant secretary of the Air Force for material, told show officials here it is "remarkable the great lead" the United States has in air power.

He indicated the country must push its lead "further and harder" if we are to stay ahead of the Russians.

Lewis warned, "There is no second best in this game"

Cost of the three-day event was estimated at $350,000 by Benjamin T. Franklin, general manager for the show

He said the show has been underwritten by the Dayton Chamber of Commerce and the National Air Foundation.

One Air Force official said the show will cause taxpayers no extra expense Flying done during the show serves as training missions, the spokesman said.

Running Scared

Vice President Nixon talked like a Dutch uncle to Republican national committeemen when they met in Cincinnati. He is reported to have told them to quit fighting among themselves and "run scared."

This expression means the Republicans should be aware of what it would mean to lose the 1954 congressional campaign.

Democratic majorities in the House and Senate would mean that both the House and Senate would be organized by Democrats. In that event, President Eisenhower would be isolated in the White House by an opposition determined to discredit both his personal leadership and his party.

A voter does not have to be a strong partisan to understand why this would be a political tragedy. The Democrats have no program. They have no issues. They have no leadership. The only way they could get into a position to paralyze the leadership that President Eisenhower wants to provide would be through Republican default. The Associated Press quotes Nixon as saying, "The swing is going to be completely to the left and the Republican party will be as dead as the dodo bird if it fails to come out on top in the congressional elections."

This is not putting the case too strongly, under the circumstances. Moderation in public affairs would be dead as a dodo, too, if midway through the first Republican administration in 20 years the congressional elections went by default to the scattered survivors of a coalition with nothing to offer but more inflation, more wild spending, more corruption and, presumably, more war.

Republicans aren't the only ones who should be "running scared." Every citizen with a stake in moderation should be "running scared" in 1954.

The Issue of EDC

A lot of printer's ink was used and a lot of sleep lost on both sides of the Atlantic in the controversial issue of the European Defense Community.

A half dozen years ago, the idea seemed simple. Six European countries — France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxemburg and West Germany — had an economic pact. Secretary of State Dulles, after he took office, pressed these countries to extend this economic arrangement into a mutual defense military pact, with each country ceding some of its sovereignty and providing troops for a supra-national "country of Europe," having a common army openly dedicated to the defense of Europe in the event of invasion by the Soviet Union.

Four nations ratified the plan. France balked, and Italy waited for France. This week, France made its final decision. It would not go along with EDC.

In the showdown that had been called for Premier Mendes-France, the issue was whether or not France would extend the principle of its economic pact with five of its neighbors to a military pact defense pact. This would have been a momentous move in the direction of a "United States of Europe." The move was rejected by a vote of 319 to 264.

France has accepted the inevitability of West German sovereignty, according to Premier Mendes-France. It continues to believe in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But it will not become a member of EDC. This means that EDC is a dead issue, because it could not materialize without France at its core.

French rejection of EDC may clear the path for some new plan of European security, by clearing the minds of statesmen of an obstacle that had been immovable for so long it had begun to seem permanent.

'When You Reach September'

September has come to be the most poignant month of the year to many of us, despite its curious neglect by poets. Perhaps poets don't feel capable of dealing with the tender thoughts it brings. Perhaps the thoughts are too personal.

The sound of a school bell makes us remember our experiences with education and to think longingly of our lost youth. The sight of, a swirling leaf in a gust of wind makes us remember time is not forever for us mortals any more than it is for leaves; that the last rose of summer is nodding its weary head.

There is a great hush that settles over the northern hemisphere in September. It reminds a close listener of all the sounds he would like to hear forever—chorus of frogs, the light-hearted gossiping of birds, the buzzing of the insect hordes. It is as though someone had ordered the cessation of a symphony that had been approaching a crescendo ever since last April.

A listener now hears, instead, the thud of an ax in a woodpile, the tapping of a repairman's hammer making things snug for winter and the roar of a football crowd. These things mark the end of summer, which men could not live without, and the beginning of the sad events leading up to winter, which most men would dispense with cheerfully if dispensation could be granted. "The time grows short when you reach September. . ."

Investigating McCarthy

By David Lawrence

Wrong Impression Given on Nature of Hearing

The public has been getting the wrong impression as to the nature of the hearing by the special Senate committee of six which is investigating the resolution proposing censure against Sen. McCarthy. It is not by any means a "judicial" hearing, such as takes place in a court of law.

For here the judges, the jury and the prosecutors are all the same people. Even if a "juror"—in this case a senator — has expressed an opinion beforehand, he isn't disqualified from sitting on the "jury."

The only thing that resembles a judicial inquiry in the committee of six is the manner of taking evidence. The procedure otherwise is pretty much in line with the flexibility senators have always exercised in their committee proceedings.

Thus, Senators Flanders of Vermount, Morse of Oregon and Fulbright of Arkansas filed the charges against Sen. McCarthy, and yet they will sit on the senatorial "jury" and vote.

The Vermont Senator isn't to be called as a witness, because he says he has no first-hand knowledge of the charges, but nevertheless he made public this week a letter designed to influence the so-called "court." This is, of course, within his senatorial prerogative.

Yet, no letters are usually sent by a prosecuting attorney demanding that the jury place emphasis on certain passages and data. These representations are usually made in open court and not by complainants or by witnesses.

NOT LONG AGO, when the Stevens-Schine-Cohn charges were aired, the opponents of Sen. McCarthy insisted that he must not sit on the committee, and he voluntarily withdrew. Also, when Samuel P. Sears, a Boston attorney, was appointed counsel, it was found he had expressed an opinion about Sen. McCarthy in a newspaper interview, and his resignation was forced.

But Sen. Edwin Johnson of Colorado now has been reported in the press as having expressed beforehand, in a newspaper interview, some adverse opinions about the Wisconsin senator, personally. The special Senate committee, however, now says this issue is irrelevant and not pertinent and that, besides, it couldn't disqualify the Colorado senator if it wanted to do so.

He could, of course, voluntarily withdraw, but Sen. Watkins says the committee members do not have to be impartial anyway, because all senators are guided by political platforms and political principles.

This tends to justify Sen. McCarthy's attitude toward the Senate subcommittee on privileges and elections before which he declined to testify in 1952 on the ground that it was engaged in a political smear started by one of his political critics, Sen. Benton of Connecticut. But while the newspapers have been filled recently with charges that the Wisconsin senator "refused to testify" before that committee, the truth is he merely declined an "invitation" to testify, although he did answer several letters from the committee and explained his viewpoint and made a categorical denial of the principal charges.

Sen. McCarthy, therefore, cannot be held in "contempt of the Senate" for refusing to accept an "invitation" to testify when the same committee had the power of subpena to compel him to testify and never ordered him to do so. Had he failed to answer a subpena, he would have been in contempt.

THE SAME HOLDS true for the oft-repeated charge that the Wisconsin senator cast asperions on Gen. Zwicker when the latter was testifying. This is a right of free speech which is well established.

The day that members of congressional committee are deprived of their right to characterize any witnesses appearing before them or to make attacks on the floor of either house — as in the case of the criticism of Gen. Marshall in a speech by Sen. McCarthy — that day the Senate will cease to exist as a body of free men.

What is most depressing, however, is the formal declaration by three Democratic senators who take the view in their report on the Stevens-Schine-Cohn hearings that a senator has no right to receive confidential information from employes of the executive branch of the government or to encourage them to do so when they feel it is their patriotic duty to inform members of congress of wrongdoing.

This is contrary to the position taken by most members of the Senate in the past — namely, that Congress has a right to receive information, however secret in nature, and that the only sin is in its further disclosure.

In the controversy over the FBI document which Sen. McCarthy was accused of wrongfully possessing during the hearings, the information itself was not divulged. There has been no showing, moreover, that anyone sought to injure the United States by furnishing the data to a senator. The law provides that such injury must be shown to have been deliberately intended by anyone who transmitted the data. Otherwise, it is not a violation of law.

CORRUPTION under the Truman administration was covered up until faithful employes did tell members of Congress privately about it because their superior officers were themselves involved in the scandals. Similarly, treason could be fostered if executive employes didn't tip off somebody on the outside — in Congress — as to what was going on.

Fortunately, Sen. Mundt and his three Republican colleagues in their report deal with the question of an employe's duty in a far more realistic sense. It is an unsolved constitutional question and hardly furnishes the basis for a censure charge against a senator who merely brings into the open a concept that has long prevailed among members of Congress.

Charges against Sen. McCarthy, if dealt with on a strictly legal basis, will not conform to the constitutional definition of "disorderly behavior," where the term is properly used in the precedents of censure cases.

But if the Hitler approach is to be applied, Sen. McCarthy can be censured. For it will be recalled that the Nazi leader ordered the judges on the bench to decide cases, not on the basis of the law or the constitution of Germany, but on the basis of "public sentiment" in their respective localities.

Woman Hater

By TRUMAN TWILL

Hatred of women is called misogyny. A guy who hates women is a misogynist. When this year's batch of hurricanes has blown the Atlantic coastline to pieces, there should be a hunt for the misogynist in the Weather Bureau who first suggested that hurricanes be named for women. Alice, Betty, Carol, Dagmar, Edith, Florence, Grenadine, Hattie, Imogene, Jacqueline and so on.

This is a sneaky way to turn the minds of impressionable men against the female sex by causing it to be identified with violence and destruction. It is a ruse to misuse the power of suggestion to make thoughtless people think of high winds and misdemeanors when the names of women are mentioned.

In the future when people hear the name Carol they will think of a gruesome witch blowing the steeple off old North Church in Boston. Over a period of years, this Weather Bureau misogynist—whoever he is—can put a blight on every woman's name in the dictionary.

The very mention of feminine attributes will cause millions of impressionable people to think automatically about ships being washed ashore and pounded to pieces, dance halls and beach cottages being smashed like orange crates, spoiled food in refrigerators cut off from a supply of current and cold cuts of meat until the current comes back on again.

The very mention of Kitty, Laura, Marcia, Norma, Ophelia or Pamela brings to mind such unpalatable thoughts as trees lying across the highway, salt water in the streets, interrupted telephone service and three-thousand- dollar automobiles up to their steering wheels in tidal waves.

Rebecca, Shirley, Trixie, Ursula, Veronicia, Winifred, Yvonne and Zenobia summon thoughts of wet basements, broken windows, bent television masts, mildewed bedding and nervous breakdowns from too much anxiety too long sustained.

All this, mind you, because one misogynist on the loose in the Weather Bureau had the idea of taking out his spite by giving women's names to nature's most destructive fury. It would have been just as easy and much more logical to name hurricanes after men.

No one could have objected to Abel, Basil, Chester, David, Edward, Felix, Gordon, Harold, Irving, Jacob, Kenneth and Lawrence —all names that evoke ideas of rampant maculinity with gusts up to 60 miles an hour, falling barometers and accompanying showers.

There could be no objection anywhere to Martin, Nathan, Oscar, Peter, Quentin, Rufus, Simon, Tomas, Ulysses, Victor, Wilbur and Zacharias. These are names that summon up thoughts of close-hauled sailing vessels scudding before the storm, beleaguered whales lying offshore and waiting for calm waters, women and children first, succor for the suffering and the imminence of natural disaster.

It looks now as if Congress would be hard up for things to investigate in 1955. Here is a juicy one to look into—who hated women so much he caused them to be associated with the fury and insanity of the dreaded hurricanes that come screaming out of the Caribbean each year?

Here must have been the grandfather of all misogynists.

Recount your vacation travels to friends and you'll find out how many beautiful spots, historic sites and wonderful, cheap accommodations you passed within five or ten miles of.

U.S. Serves World as Treaty Library

By George N. Allan

Despite the cold war, the number of international treaties and agreements being written is constantly increasing.

U. S. State Department registered no less than 897 international treaties with the United Nations between August 1951 and December 1953—far more than any other nation and a good barometer of America's leadership in world affairs.

This country registered a monthly peak number of 122 treaties, annexes, protocols and modifications to agreements in October 1952. Between August 1951 and December 1953, there were only two months when the United States registered no treaties.

The most recent treaty the State Department deposited with the U.N. was a mulilateral pact regulating international practices in the field of communications — radio, telegraph and telephone—and setting up the International Telecommunications Union.

Signed at the International Telecommunications Conference at Atlantic City, N.J., in 1947, the treaty came into force in 1949 and was registered with the U.N. last July.

The first international document the United States registered with U.N. was the declaration of Nov. 15, 1945 by the United States, Britain and Canada that they wanted to outlaw the atomic bomb and promote the peaceful use of atomic energy. It was registered in May 1947.

The U.N has registered 3,140 international agreements in its eight years of existence. It also has on file another couple of hundred annexes, protocols and modifications of the original treaties.

The accords have been coming in at the rate of six or seven a week since the U.N.'s inception. They cover every possible topic — commercial relations, mutual assistance, peace treaties, boundary agreements, air services, buying rubber, oil and other products, exchange of medical and scientific information, use of waters of rivers that pass through several countries, coinage of money, and a thousand other topics.

IN ITS 26 years of life, the League of Nations registered 4,834 treaties, which it published in 205 volumes.

The U.N. already has published 99 volumes of treaties; 16 more are in various stages of printing, and another 200 volumes will be needed to accommodate all treaties to date.

To date, only treaties deposited up to March 1951 have been published. The delay is caused by translation—the great bottleneck in any international organization or conference. All treaties are published in their original language and in French and English.

Registration of treaties was an important innovation in international law that was started by the League of Nations. The purpose was directly in line with Woodrow Wilson's famous dictum, "Open covenants openly arrived at." Registratoin and publication of international accords goes a long way toward making secret diplomacy pretty much a thing of the past.

Penalty for failing to register a treaty is that U.N. member nations are not required to recognize it as binding, and the case cannot be brought before the U.N. if any of the parties breaches the pact.

This is a powerful incentive to governments, for even if the U.N. cannot settle the dispute, it offers the aggrieved nation a powerful sounding board to enlist world sympathy on its side.

About 1,500 copies of each volume of treaties is printed. They are snapped up by governments, international law firms and universities. They sell for $3.75 and contain a maximum of about 20 accords. Some agreements, like the Italian Peace Treaty, take up an entire volume of several hundred pages.

The series of treaty volumes is a central reference file of accords that is an invaluable asset to governments, diplomats, international lawyers and students. Before the system was set up, they had painstakingly to collect treaties when and if the documents were published by the various governments that signed them.

THE ORIGINAL copy of a treaty is kept in the achives of one of the nations that signed it — usually the host nation for the conference that wrote the agreement. The U.N gets a certified copy signed by the secretary of state or the foreign minister and two additional copies for the use of translators.

The treaty copies themselves resemble any ordinary business document. These are signed by the diplomats that negotiated them. The "instrument of ratification" of the treaty—the legal notification of a country's adherence to the treaty that is signed by the chief of state or the king — is a glamorous work of art still done in the traditional diplomatic manner on heavy paper with seals, tape and stilted language Many are huge documents, measuring about 16 by 20 inches and weighing three or four pounds.

The United States makes up its "instruments" on 16 by 20 inch vellum paper, bound in blue leather and enclosed in a blue leather envelope bearing the country's great seal. The seal is embossed on a separate wafer of paper that is glued to the document, with a pair of red, white and blue ribbons running through it.

The Soviet Union makes up its "instruments" in the same size as those of the United States, but they are bound in red leather and enclosed in a heavy, red, paper box. The Russians still use the old-fashioned wax seal and instead of ribbons, run strings of the national colors through the wax.

Japan makes up the fanciest ratification instruments. Slightly smaller than those of the United States, they are bound in red velvet and bear a gold-embroidered sun on the cover. The document is signed by the Emperor and bears his personal seal — measuring nearly three inches square—in place of a national seal.

Some of the ratification instruments still have a great swath of red tape running across the signature page and through the seal, but the tendency is toward using ribbon of the national colors—probably because of the bureaucratic connotation carried by red tape.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Crime of the Year

One of the major crimes of the year, calling for extra daring and an extraordinary concept of values, occurred the other day when bandits made a haul of 2,500 pounds of shrimp and 3,500 pounds of lobster tails from the Fulton Fish Market in New York.

Surely this ranks with the really big jobs of 1954, as anybody who has thought of ordering a shrimp cocktail today knows.

We have long wondered why thieves bothered with diamonds when they can get shrimp, and how on earth they will take great risks for pearls when they can make a haul of lobster tails. Of course, such bandits must tie in such banditry with a job at a catsup plant and lettuce warehouse, but that is not hard.

The public is sympathetic, we think, to shrimp bandits. . . . It is moved by sheer admiration for anybody who can get it for free. . . . Shrimp is real loot these days, unless the restaurant menus are deceptive.

As a man who has often yearned for a shrimp cocktail and been deterred by prices of from 65 cents to $1.25 for four or five shrimp, we have dreamed of being a sort of Captain Kidd loose in the shrimp industry . . . a boldpirate able to get all the shrimp he desires without a bank loan. Or a Willie Sutton of the city shrimp depositories.

We can imagine a news report: Hundreds of police and detectives are combing the city today for one of the most sensational stickups of the decade, the bold robbery at So-and-So's restaurant early this morning.

Godfrey Finch, a waiter, arriving to open the place, felt a gun in his back and the stern command, "Open up and do as you're told. We want the keys to the shrimp!"

"You can have the keys to the safe and the keys to the money vaults — even the keys to the meat and pastry departments," said Finch, "but the shrimp . . . NEVER!" He was slugged. Other employers arriving were herded into a group and forced to lead the way to the shrimp and lobster tail vaults. The total value of the haul is hard to estimate, but it is known they got enough shrimp to serve a party of six or eight people.

Our idea of a tough spot is to be caught watching a big-league baseball telecast and discovering you have no beer-bottle opener.

If the Democrats are unable to come up with some criticism of Ike and Herb's fishing trip they will feel pretty frustrated. . . . How about a claim by Mr. Mitchell that they are taking the people's trout?

There is a battle on for control of Montgomery-Ward and we want a catalogue showing the price of it.

"Arrest Men for Extortion Attempt on Serge Rubinstein" — headline. Ya mean he is still in this country!!!

President Eisenhower and ex-President Hoover are trout fishing together and we sent a note to Ike warning him not to carry a score-card, waggle the trout rod, worry about his trouting stance or go too far back on his cast.

A woman was arrested the other day after trying to run over a policeman twice and succeeding the third time. . . . Women drivers seem to us to be getting pretty wild these days and seem to believe they are entitled to three shots at anybody in their path. . . . Their anger when they miss the first two can be pretty terrible.

Nat Holman not only gets reinstated at City College with back pay but gets the extra shots at the basket for a personal foul.

Talk of moving the famed Washington Market of downtown New York to the Bronx depresses ye ed, to whom it has always been a pretty fascinating place where it is. . . . Its scores of grocery markets, butcher shops, cheese, chowder, hot dog and seafood establishments, all under one tent, have seemed fabulous to us, and where else can a man get a hamburger sandwich, a cut of venison, a beer, a plate of clams, a frankfurter, some bear meat or a lobster with three claws, all depending on the mood of the moment? . . . A sentimental cuss, we pull a Johnnie Ray, also, when we watch a great sector of the Columbus Circle of yesterday being yanked out of the landscape as a tooth is yanked from the human jaw. . . . The circle holds a special place in our heart because our very first memory as a kid visitor is linked with it. . . . We were a teen-age cub reporter assigned to go along aboard a Maxwell auto on a "sealed hood contest" to demonstrate that the auto was here to stay and that it could, with luck, be driven from 50 or 75 miles without motor trouble. . . . The trip ended, we recall dimly, in Columbus Circle in front of the Pabst Cafe of that day.

Guild Collects Food at Rawlins Show

TWENTY-FOUR CARTONS of canned and boxed food were collected by the Junior Service Guild Thursday night at the Palace Theater where a special show, marking the opening of the Jimmy Rawlins dance studio in Marion, was held.

Admission to the show was one can or box of food to be distributed by the welfare department to needy persons in the city.

Crowds were lined up outside the theater for several blocks waiting to get in to see the show.

It featured the "Kiddie TV Stars of '54" in their dance acts, demonstrating the results of Rawlins' instructions. Also on the stage was Bud Gillis with his pet monkey "Bananas," Charlie Cesner at the organ, and a 10-minute dance instruction using children from the audience.

The Rawlins Dancefun studio is located at 133 W. Center St. over the Woolworth Store. Registration begins today at the studio, which is open Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Milan Youth, Trapped In Shale Silt, Rescued

MILAN, Ohio (AP) — Fellow workmen fashioned homemade steel tubes yesterday to rescue 21-year-old Walter Myers from a cylinder of pulverized shale silt into which he fell at the Lavey Pottery Co. plant here.

Myers was buried up to his neck for 2½ hours.

The steel tubes were forced down over his body, and finally pulled out with him in them. Previous attempts to pull him out with a rope only resulted in welding him tighter in the silt.

BARN HIT BY LIGHTNING

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lightning last night set fire to a barn and former riding stable in the Columbus area. Two horses and a 3-week-old calf burned to death.

Damage to the barn was estimated at $15,000 by firemen. It was owned by Lynas Dill at Sharon Twp. Two farm tractors, 1,000 bales of hay and the building were destroyed.

Firemen fought the stable fire until early today.

Japs, Belgians Underbid U.S. Firms on Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today it has decided "in principle" to divide 50-50 between American and foreign manufacturers a multi-million dollar purchase of railroad equipment for India.

Foreign Aid Director Harold E. Stassen announced the decision at a news conference.

The project involves 100 steam locomotives and about 5,000 freight cars to modernize India's railroad system.

Low bidder for the locomotives was the Japanese Rolling Stock Export Co. of Tokyo at $81,470 apiece. High bidder, at $178,200 each, was the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp. of Philadelphia.

A Belgian firm was low for the freight cars. Two American firms were high for these cars.

Miss Greene Exchanges Vows With Mr. Lattanza

In a ceremony July 31 in St. Mary Catholic Church, Miss Mildred Marie Greene became the bride of Norman Lattanza. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greene of Morral and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lattanza of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Arrangements of white gladioli decorated the altar and Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor, officiated for the 10 a.m. service.

A waltz length gown of Romanesque imported Chantilly lace over satin was worn by the bride. It featured a scalloped neckline and the bouffant skirt ended in a scalloped hemline. Her fingertup length veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of matching lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of stepanotis and pink glamellias, and her only jewelry was a gold locket which had been worn by her mother at her wedding.

ATTENDING the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Warren Seckel of Dayton, and bridesmaids were Miss Twyla Weatherby of West Mansfield, college roommate of the bride, and Miss Natalie Ricci of Lorain, cousin of the bridegroom. Their waltz-length gowns were fashioned alike of taffeta with scalloped necklines and full nylon tulle overskirts. The matron of honor was in rose and the bridesmaids in pink. They wore matching headbands and mitts and white necklaces and earrings, gifts from the bride. Their colonial bouquets were of white carnations and delphinium tied with streamers to match their gowns.

Flower girl was little Miss Rita Greene of Morral, niece of the bride, who wore a rose taffeta dress with tulle overskirt and carried a white satin basket of carnations and delphinium.

Phil Caran of Southbridge, Mass., served as best man for the bridegroom, and ushers were Jerry Menz of Amherst, O., a fraternity brother of the bridegroom, and Bruce Ferguson.

Mrs. Greene chose for her daughter's wedding a navy print dress with white accessories and a corsage of white glamellias. Mrs Lattanza was attired in a gray print dress with light blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a luncheon was held at the Highway Hotel for the bridal party, immediate families and close friends, and in the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Serving were Mrs Richard Greene of Morral, and Mrs. Stanley Leininger of East Liberty, O.

—:—

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS were from Dayton, Lorain, Amherst, Morral, Richwood, LaRue, Mount Victory, Forest, East Liberty, West Mansfield, Columbus and North Ridgeville, O., Pittsburgh, Monaca and Freedom, Pa., and Southbridge, Mass.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Canada, Mrs. Lattanza was wearing a white nylon dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of pink glamellias. They now are making their home at 315 E. Evers in Bowling Green where Mr. Lattanza will be taking graduate study at Bowling Green State University and Mrs. Lattanza will be teaching in the Pemberville Public Schools.

Mrs. Lattanza was graduated from Morral High School in 1949 and Bowling Green State University in 1954. For the last two years, she taught in the elemenary schools in Sandusky. Her husband is a graduate of Freedom High School in 1947 and Bowling Green University in 1952. He served two years in the Army.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents the evening preceding the wedding, at Hotel Harding.

3 New Instructors Hired at Chatfield

BUCYRUS — Three new teachers have been hired at Chatfield Consolidated School, north of here, Supt. C. W. Biggs announced today.

William Maxwell is the new athletic coach, Eugene Trumbull will teach mathematics and science and Robin Smith will be the industrial arts teacher.

Maxwell is a graduate of Ashland College and formerly lived in Cardington. Trumbull is a graduate of Ohio State University. Both are Army veterans and have no teaching experience. Smith, who formerly taught at Big Walnut School in Delaware County, is a graduate of Ohio University at Athens.

Lifelong Bucyrians Will Observe 50th Year of Marriage

BUCYRUS — Mr. and Mrs. W C Assenheimer, lifelong Bucyrus residents, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, an event of next Monday, with an open house observance Sunday evening at the family home.

Mr. Assenheimer and the former Minnie G. Hauer were married Sept. 6, 1904, at the home of the bride's parents in Bucyrus. They have one son, Clarence, a member of the faculty of the music department at Heidelberg College in Tiffin, and four grandchildren.

Mr. Assenheimer, a retired clerk, has been a member of the choir at Bucyrus Good Hope Lutheran Church for the past 57 years. His wife belonged to the choir for 52 years, resigning from the group in 1949 because of ill health.

Tiffin Orphan Home Alumni Plan Reunion

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) — The Junior Home Alumni Assn annual homecoming here over Labor Day weekend will be highlighted by an address by Gov. Frank J. Lausche at its banquet Sept. 5.

The association, established in 1924, is composed of alumni of the National Home for Orphans near Tiffin. The home went out of existence in 1944

Fifteen times in the past 30 years thousands of former residents of the home have gathered from over the nation for the homecomings.

The home started operations in two farm houses and a red barn in 1896. By the 1920s it reached its peak population of 1,200 boys and girls.

In 1901, Dr. Charles H. Kernan, an orphan himself, took the reins and expanded the home to 850 acres and some 50 brick buildings. Dr. Kernan died in 1947, three years after the State of Ohio purchased the home in line with its expanding welfare program.

A traditional feature of the annual meeting is its tribute to Dr. Kernan, whose name has been perpetuated in form of a Dr. Charles H. Kernan Memorial Scholarship Fund at Heidelberg College.

TO OPEN MARKET

UPPER SANDUSKY — A new Clover Farm super market will be opened in Upper Sandusky about Oct 1 in a large block building at the corner of Warpole and Guthrie Sts. The building was recently used as an indoor roller skating rink. Operators of the new market will be J. W. Lyon, his son, Russell, and Clayton Shull. The senior Mr. Lyon has been in the grocery business here for 25 years. His son and Mr. Shull have been associated with him in recent years in the operation of the downtown Clover Farm store.

Motorcyclist Hurt In Crestline Crash

CRESTLINE—Paul McKim, 19 of Crestline lost his right leg Thursday in a motorcycle truck accident, six-tenths of a mile west of Crestline on Crawford County Road 35

State patrolmen from the Bucyrus post said McKim's motorcycle was hit by a pickup truck driven by Elmer Sprang 62 of Crestline about 2 50 p m yesterday McKim was headed east on the county road and Sprang who was headed west was making a left turn The motorcycle hit the side of the truck

McKim was rushed to Crestline Emergency Hospital where he is in 'fair' condition He also suffered possible internal injuries abrasions of the face a broken hand and a possible broken thigh

Sprang was cited to appear today before Crestline Mayor Nelson Lee on a charge of failure to yield the right of way

Woman Asks Real Estate Cut To Pay for Luxuries

JOLIET Ill (AP)—A plea by an unidentified woman for a cut in real estate and property taxes was rejected by the Will County Board of Review and a member said the reason was obvious

"We've heard most complaints but this woman had a new one' Tillman Woodhouse a board member said yesterday 'She said she and her husband recently purchased their $30 000 home a Cadillac and a lot of expensive home furnishings

'What with keeping up all the payments she said they couldn't really afford to pay taxes at all so she demanded a radical reduction"
